Archaeological Dialogues is a refereed journal aiming at the promotion of theoretically oriented approaches which go beyond traditional archaeological perspectives and consider a wide range of historical, social and philosophical issues. It shuns narrow chronological and regional limits and emphasises the importance of theoretical engagement and methodological debate. Archaeological Dialogues includes discussion articles, review essays and in-depth interviews, which encourage debate and critical analysis.

Subscriptions
Archaeological Dialogues (ISSN 1380-2038) is published twice a year in June and December. Two parts form a volume. The subscription price which includes delivery by air where appropriate (but excluding VAT) of volume 18 is £91 (US $163 in USA, Canada and Mexico) for institutions (print and electronic); £82 (US $145) for institutions (electronic only); £36 (US $62) for individuals (print only); £25 (US $44) for students (print only). EU subscribers (outside the UK) who are not registered for VAT should add VAT at their country’s rate. VAT registered members should provide their VAT registration number. Guidelines for contributors
Archaeological Dialogues is a broad, peer-reviewed journal for debating archaeology. Articles should be accessible to an audience which may be unfamiliar with the specific period and region discussed. Transparent writing is encouraged above abstruse reasoning. Jargon should be avoided and succinct writing is appreciated. We value good illustrations. These can include photographs, line-drawings and maps.

Procedure
The Archaeological Dialogues publishing process includes the following steps: submission, evaluation, decision (acceptance, modification or rejection), copy-editing, proof-reading, publication, and distribution. In order to guarantee efficient and quality publication, contributors are requested to adhere closely to the following guidelines:

- All manuscripts should be written in English. Manuscripts that seriously fail to conform to the guidelines will be returned to authors for revision before they will be considered.

- When submitting a contribution to Archaeological Dialogues, it will be acknowledged on receipt. One of the editors will be the contact person for a paper throughout the entire process. If scope, quality and language are appropriate it will be sent to two anonymous referees for expert opinion. Usually within two or three months, the editors will inform you of their final decision. In the case of rejection, an editorial justification will be provided, including the original referees’ reports. In the case of acceptance – which may be conditional on revisions – one of the editors will guide you through the rest of the publishing process. Before an article goes into print, authors will receive a copy of the proofs to check. The entire procedure between submission and appearance may take less than a year.

Types of contributions
Archaeological Dialogues essentially publishes two types of papers, namely ‘discussion articles’ and ‘notes’. The former are accompanied by published comments and a reply. Discussion articles are usually longer, they can be up to 8–9000 words whereas notes typically are around 4–5000 words. Discussion articles usually take longer to appear in print because of the time required for comments and reply. Review essays and interviews are usually solicited by the editorial board, but scholars with suggestions in this direction are encouraged to contact us.

Submission of contributions
Manuscripts are preferably received by email (dialogues@cambridge.org), alternatively, a CD and hardcopy may be sent to: Archaeological Dialogues, VU University, Faculty of Arts, De Boelelaan 1105, 1081 HV Amsterdam, The Netherlands.

Authors are solely responsible not only for the contents of their manuscripts, but also for securing any legal rights or permissions to publish submitted material, including copyright-protected materials. The appropriate acknowledgements should be given in captions, endnotes, or elsewhere. Manuscripts should not be submitted to (nor should they have been published in) any other journal or publication.

See http://uk.cambridge.org/journals/ard for an extended version of the guidelines for contributors.

This journal issue has been printed on FSC-certified paper and cover board. FSC is an independent, non-governmental, not-for-profit organization established to promote the responsible management of the world’s forests. Please see www.fsc.org for information.

Archaeological Dialogues is indexed in the Thomson Reuters Arts and Humanities Citation Index.
