‘A STITCH IN TIME . . .’

Published by The Children’s Bureau of Australia in association with The Office of Intellectual Disability Services
— Department of Community Services — Victoria

This comprehensive study represents an effort to respond to a growing need for information on respite care by seeking a clearer understanding of specific needs these services are attempting to address. Key factors that need to be considered when developing and implementing respite care programs for families of disabled children and also when assessing their value and impact are also highlighted.

The study represents vital reading for anyone concerned with the plight of disabled children and their families!

$10.50 per copy plus
$3.00 postage & packaging
$13.50 TOTAL

Send cheque made payable to:
The Children’s Bureau of Australia Inc.
Box 629,
Cheltenham, 3192.

LIMITED EDITIONS
In this issue

Family Support — The First Option for Families in Great Stress .................................................. 3

MARGARET MATTERS
This article describes a family support program tackling the needs of families who are sometimes seen as “multi deficit”, “multi problem”, “hard to reach”, “hard core” and “excluded”.

Families, Children and Local Government ............ 7

JENNY WILLS
This article draws attention to the increasing involvement and some of the concerns of local government in planning and providing services for families and children. The state of play in intergovernmental relations is raised and some aspects of potentially fruitful demonstration projects are noted.

Family Aide Services in Victoria .......................... 9

PATRICIA BRIGGS
The results are reported of a 1988 survey of agencies in Victoria operating family aide programs. Valuable data has been obtained as an aid to policy and program decision making.

Gardens and Personal Growth .............................. 14

JANE PICTION
Jane describes the establishment and operation of a garden centre. The Kevin Heinze Centre brings together volunteers and people with disabilities, extending learning and opportunities.

Not the Last Word: Point and Counter-Point ........ 16

CHRIS GODDARD
Chris notes the discovery of Affluenza and the Favelas above. Dry economics awash in the rising tide.

Book Reviews:
Homelessness .................................................. 18
Raising Kids .................................................... 18
Positive Parenting ............................................ 19
Heroin Myths & Reality ...................................... 19
Addictions ......................................................... 19