Catholic Times

Leads . . . and Others Follow.

'Your paper is the only Catholic one in England giving a right lead to our people.'—A Glasgow reader.

THIS is the growing opinion among the Catholic body in Great Britain. In times so critical as the present, it is not sufficient for a Catholic newspaper to present the week's news and leave it there. Leadership in Catholic thought and guidance in Catholic principles are the needs of the day. The CATHOLIC TIMES stands out among the Catholic Press of the country—noted for its fearless comment, applauded for constructive criticism, and equalled by no other for its well informed contributions on current affairs as viewed from the Catholic standpoint.

Not only during the present state of national emergency has the CATHOLIC TIMES presented its readers with the Catholic viewpoint of the crisis, but for months past it has been alone among the Catholic Press of this country in its insistent demands for a return to agricultural prosperity, its condemnation and documented exposure of the anti-Christian reorganisation of Soviet Russia, and its constant criticism of every public service or party that proposes or enforces anything opposed to Catholic belief and practice.

Where the CATHOLIC TIMES has led other papers have followed in news and views.

The thinking section of the Catholic body are reading the CATHOLIC TIMES and keeping themselves well informed on current events from the only viewpoint that matters — the Catholic viewpoint.

Every Friday. From all Newsagents. Twopence.

¶ A partnership of two inimitable artists in Satire. These eighty-one rules of conduct with their eighty-one illustrations are certain to provoke eighty-one explosions of laughter.

¶ 'The page never fails of its laugh . . . combines Bellockian and Derrickian satire in an uncanny degree.'—The Observer.
