Law
Books and Journals from Cambridge University Press

Cambridge have an established and ever expanding academic law list in public and private law subjects crossing books and journals aimed at a global readership.

Particular strengths lie in international law, human rights and transitional justice, transnational and comparative law, jurisprudence, and legal history.

We also publish a growing number of titles with an inter-disciplinary and socio-legal approach.

For further details visit: cambridge.org/core-law
Instructions for contributors

The International Journal of Law in Context is the companion journal to the Journal of Law in Context. It publishes a forum for interdisciplinary legal studies and inter-faculty research in this context. It is open to any particular theory, ideology or methodology and invites researchers in a variety of disciplines to contribute. It also welcomes contributions from authors who have previously published in the Journal of Law in Context and have a willingness to explore and expand the boundaries of law and legal studies.

Full instructions for contributors are available at journals.cambridge.org/ijlc.

Abstract

Please submit your article using the ScholarOne system:
http://mc.manuscriptcentral.com/ijlc

Questions regarding publication may be sent to the Editors-in-Chief:
Professor Jane Holder
jane.holder@ucl.ac.uk
Professor Markus Wagner
markus.wagner@uni-klu.ac.uk

Contributions are responsible for obtaining permission to reproduce any materials, including photographs and illustrations, for which they do not hold copyright and for ensuring that the appropriate acknowledgments are included in the manuscript.

All contributions in the journal are peer-reviewed.

Authors interested in submitting a piece to the Law in Other Contexts section should send a short description of their article to Volume 8, Issue 1 for advice on what these articles should cover. This information is available at the Editors-in-Chief’s website.

Upon acceptance of a paper, the authors will be asked to assign copyright to Cambridge University Press.

References

For referencing use the Harvard-style system. Surname and date should be given in the text, with a page reference where relevant, together with an alphabetically-ordered list at the end. Use the following style in the reference list:

N citations in new editions of previously published works should include the date of the original edition and the new edition in the text and in the reference list for e.g. MILL (3rd edn 1998)

References to UK statutes must be made as follows:

Matrimonial Causes Act 1973, s 45.

Footnotes should be used rather than end notes.

Tables should be presented on separate sheets at the end of the article.

When a case is referred to in the text, the case report should be clearly numbered and should have short descriptive titles. Figures should be clearly numbered and should have explanatory captions. The author must indicate where Tables and Figures will be placed in the printed version.

Authors should submit manuscripts electronically, together with an e-mail address, and telephone and fax numbers. Manuscripts will be corrected by a native speaker before submission. This is optional, but may help to ensure that the academic content of the paper is fully understood by the editor and reviewers. We list a number of third-party services specialising in language editing and/or translation, and suggest that authors contact their publishers for a list of these services. Keep a record of any correspondence with the publishers.

Please note that the use of any of these services is voluntary, and at the author’s own expense. Use of these services does not guarantee that the manuscript will be accepted for publication, nor does it restrict the author to submitting to a Cambridge published journal.

Each article should be accompanied by the following information on a separate sheet:

● The title of the article
● The author’s name, affiliation and institutional address, together with e-mail address, and telephone and fax numbers
● An abstract of 100-150 words
● Articles should not exceed 10,000 words, including notes.

Authors should submit manuscripts electronically, together with an e-mail address, and telephone and fax numbers. Manuscripts will be corrected by a native speaker before submission. This is optional, but may help to ensure that the academic content of the paper is fully understood by the editor and reviewers. We list a number of third-party services specialising in language editing and/or translation, and suggest that authors contact their publishers for a list of these services. Keep a record of any correspondence with the publishers.

Please note that the use of any of these services is voluntary, and at the author’s own expense. Use of these services does not guarantee that the manuscript will be accepted for publication, nor does it restrict the author to submitting to a Cambridge published journal.

Each article should be accompanied by the following information on a separate sheet:

● The title of the article
● The author’s name, affiliation and institutional address, together with e-mail address, and telephone and fax numbers
● An abstract of 100-150 words
● Articles should not exceed 10,000 words, including notes.

Authors should submit manuscripts electronically, together with an e-mail address, and telephone and fax numbers. Manuscripts will be corrected by a native speaker before submission. This is optional, but may help to ensure that the academic content of the paper is fully understood by the editor and reviewers. We list a number of third-party services specialising in language editing and/or translation, and suggest that authors contact their publishers for a list of these services. Keep a record of any correspondence with the publishers.

Please note that the use of any of these services is voluntary, and at the author’s own expense. Use of these services does not guarantee that the manuscript will be accepted for publication, nor does it restrict the author to submitting to a Cambridge published journal.

Each article should be accompanied by the following information on a separate sheet:

● The title of the article
● The author’s name, affiliation and institutional address, together with e-mail address, and telephone and fax numbers
● An abstract of 100-150 words
● Articles should not exceed 10,000 words, including notes.

Authors should submit manuscripts electronically, together with an e-mail address, and telephone and fax numbers. Manuscripts will be corrected by a native speaker before submission. This is optional, but may help to ensure that the academic content of the paper is fully understood by the editor and reviewers. We list a number of third-party services specialising in language editing and/or translation, and suggest that authors contact their publishers for a list of these services. Keep a record of any correspondence with the publishers.

Please note that the use of any of these services is voluntary, and at the author’s own expense. Use of these services does not guarantee that the manuscript will be accepted for publication, nor does it restrict the author to submitting to a Cambridge published journal.

Each article should be accompanied by the following information on a separate sheet:

● The title of the article
● The author’s name, affiliation and institutional address, together with e-mail address, and telephone and fax numbers
● An abstract of 100-150 words
● Articles should not exceed 10,000 words, including notes.

Authors should submit manuscripts electronically, together with an e-mail address, and telephone and fax numbers. Manuscripts will be corrected by a native speaker before submission. This is optional, but may help to ensure that the academic content of the paper is fully understood by the editor and reviewers. We list a number of third-party services specialising in language editing and/or translation, and suggest that authors contact their publishers for a list of these services. Keep a record of any correspondence with the publishers.

Please note that the use of any of these services is voluntary, and at the author’s own expense. Use of these services does not guarantee that the manuscript will be accepted for publication, nor does it restrict the author to submitting to a Cambridge published journal.

Each article should be accompanied by the following information on a separate sheet:

● The title of the article
● The author’s name, affiliation and institutional address, together with e-mail address, and telephone and fax numbers
● An abstract of 100-150 words
● Articles should not exceed 10,000 words, including notes.

Authors should submit manuscripts electronically, together with an e-mail address, and telephone and fax numbers. Manuscripts will be corrected by a native speaker before submission. This is optional, but may help to ensure that the academic content of the paper is fully understood by the editor and reviewers. We list a number of third-party services specialising in language editing and/or translation, and suggest that authors contact their publishers for a list of these services. Keep a record of any correspondence with the publishers.

Please note that the use of any of these services is voluntary, and at the author’s own expense. Use of these services does not guarantee that the manuscript will be accepted for publication, nor does it restrict the author to submitting to a Cambridge published journal.

Each article should be accompanied by the following information on a separate sheet:

● The title of the article
● The author’s name, affiliation and institutional address, together with e-mail address, and telephone and fax numbers
● An abstract of 100-150 words
● Articles should not exceed 10,000 words, including notes.

Authors should submit manuscripts electronically, together with an e-mail address, and telephone and fax numbers. Manuscripts will be corrected by a native speaker before submission. This is optional, but may help to ensure that the academic content of the paper is fully understood by the editor and reviewers. We list a number of third-party services specialising in language editing and/or translation, and suggest that authors contact their publishers for a list of these services. Keep a record of any correspondence with the publishers.

Please note that the use of any of these services is voluntary, and at the author’s own expense. Use of these services does not guarantee that the manuscript will be accepted for publication, nor does it restrict the author to submitting to a Cambridge published journal.

Each article should be accompanied by the following information on a separate sheet:

● The title of the article
● The author’s name, affiliation and institutional address, together with e-mail address, and telephone and fax numbers
● An abstract of 100-150 words
● Articles should not exceed 10,000 words, including notes.

Authors should submit manuscripts electronically, together with an e-mail address, and telephone and fax numbers. Manuscripts will be corrected by a native speaker before submission. This is optional, but may help to ensure that the academic content of the paper is fully understood by the editor and reviewers. We list a number of third-party services specialising in language editing and/or translation, and suggest that authors contact their publishers for a list of these services. Keep a record of any correspondence with the publishers.

Please note that the use of any of these services is voluntary, and at the author’s own expense. Use of these services does not guarantee that the manuscript will be accepted for publication, nor does it restrict the author to submitting to a Cambridge published journal.

Each article should be accompanied by the following information on a separate sheet:

● The title of the article
● The author’s name, affiliation and institutional address, together with e-mail address, and telephone and fax numbers
● An abstract of 100-150 words
● Articles should not exceed 10,000 words, including notes.

Authors should submit manuscripts electronically, together with an e-mail address, and telephone and fax numbers. Manuscripts will be corrected by a native speaker before submission. This is optional, but may help to ensure that the academic content of the paper is fully understood by the editor and reviewers. We list a number of third-party services specialising in language editing and/or translation, and suggest that authors contact their publishers for a list of these services. Keep a record of any correspondence with the publishers.

Please note that the use of any of these services is voluntary, and at the author’s own expense. Use of these services does not guarantee that the manuscript will be accepted for publication, nor does it restrict the author to submitting to a Cambridge published journal.

Each article should be accompanied by the following information on a separate sheet:

● The title of the article
● The author’s name, affiliation and institutional address, together with e-mail address, and telephone and fax numbers
● An abstract of 100-150 words
● Articles should not exceed 10,000 words, including notes.

Authors should submit manuscripts electronically, together with an e-mail address, and telephone and fax numbers. Manuscripts will be corrected by a native speaker before submission. This is optional, but may help to ensure that the academic content of the paper is fully understood by the editor and reviewers. We list a number of third-party services specialising in language editing and/or translation, and suggest that authors contact their publishers for a list of these services. Keep a record of any correspondence with the publishers.

Please note that the use of any of these services is voluntary, and at the author’s own expense. Use of these services does not guarantee that the manuscript will be accepted for publication, nor does it restrict the author to submitting to a Cambridge published journal.

Each article should be accompanied by the following information on a separate sheet:

● The title of the article
● The author’s name, affiliation and institutional address, together with e-mail address, and telephone and fax numbers
● An abstract of 100-150 words
● Articles should not exceed 10,000 words, including notes.
CONTENTS

Articles
1–19 A post-colonial legal approach to the Chagos case and the (dis)application of land rights norms
Kinnari Bhatt
20–32 Un-signing Geneva: legal pragmatics in the management of asylum
Marc de Leeuw and Sonja van Wichelen
33–50 Monitoring mechanisms designed to serve persons with intellectual disabilities: exploring the implementation of Article 16 CRPD in Cyprus
Emily Julia Kakoulis
51–67 Not ‘us’ and ‘them’: towards a normative legal theory of mental health vulnerability
Phil Bielby
68–87 Fatherhood, gender and the making of professional identity in large law firms: bringing men into the frame
Richard Collier
88–102 Neo-extractivist controversies in Bolivia: indigenous perspectives on global norms
Jessika Eckler

Retractions
103–103 The illusory nature of ontological status and its implications for legal, moral and social organisation – RETRACTION
Anthony Amatrudo
104–104 Transgenerational association. Extending the notion of the person – RETRACTION
Anthony Amatrudo
105–109 An intentional basis for corporate personality – RETRACTION
Anthony Amatrudo