The history behind the headlines

bedfordstmartins.com/smitharab-israeli/catalog

Palestine and the Arab-Israeli Conflict

A History with Documents

Seventh Edition

Charles D. Smith, University of Arizona

Palestine and the Arab-Israeli Conflict provides a comprehensive, balanced, and accessible introduction to the multi-faceted history of the Arab-Israeli conflict. Smith's widely respected analysis examines how underlying issues, group motives, religious and cross-cultural clashes, diplomacy and imperialism, and encroaching modernity shaped this volatile region. The book's narrative and supporting documents, maps, photographs, and chronologies consider high and low politics with perspectives from all sides of the struggle, while the final chapters include the latest developments.

“In addition to being well written and easily accessible for students, the text is also authoritative. Smith's treatment of the conflict is fair and analytically thoughtful.”

— Toby Jones, Rutgers University

Palestinian Women and Politics in Israel

Suheir Abu Oksa Daoud

"A stimulating study of Palestinian Israeli feminism as a significant segment of a trapped minority. This is a profound exploration of Israel's failed attempt to re-tribalize its Arab community, manifested by the triumph of the gradual modernization of that society's females through the experiences of work, education, and politicization."—Ghada Hashem Talhami, Lake Forest College

Hardcover $65.00

Women and Gender in Early Jewish and Palestinian Nationalism

Sheila H. Katz

"In this landmark book, Katz skillfully demonstrates the complex ways that gender ideology was inextricably linked to and reinforced the formation of both Palestinian Arab and Jewish Zionist national identities in the early 20th century."—Sherna Berger Gluck, California State University

THE STRUGGLE FOR FREEDOM

“Esfandiari’s account of her incarceration in Tehran, her perseverance and finally freedom has wider universal implications: the importance as well as the fragility of the basic freedoms we so often take for granted, and the need for international support and defense of these freedoms not just in Iran but the world over.”

—Azar Nafisi, author of Reading Lolita in Tehran

“Ms. Esfandiari’s finely wrought memoir...gives us a window on a terrible and terrifying world and the trial by fire that some of our fellow human beings are forced to endure.”

The Dönme
Jewish Converts, Muslim Revolutionaries, and Secular Turks

MARC DAVID BAER

“At last, an engaging yet non-sensationalized history of the Dönme that places their history in the broader context of the later Ottoman empire and emergent Turkish Republic, showing how this group—so vital to the Empire’s many later gains, its transition to a republic, and its ‘cosmopolitan’ character—ended up largely erased from the historical record.”

How Ordinary People Change the Middle East

ASEF BAYAT

“If we are serious about meaningful change in the Middle East, we need to be aware of the ways people come together, share, and support each other in poor, urban Middle Eastern neighborhoods. In this pioneering book, Bayat forces us to see things from the ground up. Rather than focus on conflict, he highlights the unseen, ordinary ways people deprived of rights and avenues of protest continue to create opportunities.”

Contested Perspectives on Political Islam

Edited by RICHARD C. MARTIN and ABBAS BARZEGAR

“This lively work will be a great help for anyone concerned with current debates between Islamic nations and the West. The book’s active discussion of the terms ‘Islamism’ and ‘Islamist’ brings much needed attention to the degree that we rely on irresponsible rhetoric to discuss the Islamic world today.”

Dictatorship versus Democracy in the 1930s

ISRAEL GERSHONI and JAMES JANKOWSKI

“This impressive work is refreshing in its scope and yet attentive to the rich details of the Egyptian experience. It makes the powerful case that no transfer of Nazi ideology occurred in Egypt in the 1930s and details how Egyptian thinkers, including leaders of the Muslim Brothers, watched, appalled, as Hitler’s regime pursued its racist programs. The authors know Egyptian history inside out and their use of Arabic periodical sources is dazzling.”

INTERMEDIATE ARABIC

Functional Modern Standard Arabic for Intermediate Learners

Mahdi Alosch

This intermediate text is designed for students continuing to develop overall proficiency in Modern Standard Arabic. The approach is highly functional, with a focus on guiding students toward acquisition of language skills that serve practical uses in daily life.

Includes 3 Audio CDs

ARABIC SECOND LANGUAGE ACQUISITION OF MORPHOSYNTAX

Mohammad T. Alhawary

While the demand for Arabic classes and preparation programs for Arabic language teachers has increased, there is a notable gap in the field of linguistic research on learning Arabic as a second language. Arabic Second Language Acquisition of Morphosyntax presents a data-driven and systematic analysis of Arabic language acquisition that responds to this growing need.

FOCUS ON CONTEMPORARY ARABIC

Shukri B. Abed

Focus on Contemporary Arabic offers pioneering multimedia language materials to students at the intermediate and advanced levels. The program consists of a slim, user-friendly student textbook and an accompanying DVD that contains interviews with a variety of native speakers filmed in Arabic and offers a glimpse into the complexity of both the language and the culture.

Includes DVD

DESCRIPTION

The Middle East Studies Association (MESA) is a private, non-profit, non-political learned society that brings together scholars, educators and those interested in the study of the region from all over the world. From its inception in 1966 with 50 founding members, MESA has increased its membership to more than 2,600 and now serves as an umbrella organization for more than seventy institutional members and forty-two affiliated organizations. The association is a constituent society of the American Council of Learned Societies, the National Council of Area Studies Associations, and a member of the National Humanities Alliance. As part of its goal to advance learning, facilitate communication and promote cooperation, MESA sponsors an annual meeting that is a leading international forum for scholarship, intellectual exchange and pedagogical innovation. It is responsible for the International Journal of Middle East Studies, the premiere journal on the region, the Review of Middle East Studies, and a quarterly newsletter. An awards program recognizes scholarly achievement, service to the profession, and exemplary students. MESA is governed by a nine-member Board of Directors elected by the membership.

MESA is a nonprofit corporation with tax exempt status. Contributions to the Association are deductible under both U.S. Federal and British income tax regulations.

MISSION STATEMENT

The Middle East Studies Association (MESA) is a non-political association that fosters the study of the Middle East, promotes high standards of scholarship and teaching, and encourages public understanding of the region and its peoples through programs, publications and services that enhance education, further intellectual exchange, recognize professional distinction, and defend academic freedom.
