

THE POLITICAL EDUCATION OF ARNOLD BRECHT

An Autobiography, 1884-1970

Appointed Cabinet Secretary by the last Imperial Chancellor, Arnold Brecht served in the German government until, as acting state secretary, he was dismissed by Hitler in 1933. His autobiography is a rich, eye-witness account of Germany in the 19th and 20th centuries. From his shorthand minutes of the vital cabinet meeting of November 2, 1918, to his discussion of the responsibility for Hitler's ascent to total power, Professor Brecht invites the reader to look at events from the point of view of a high civil servant. Friedrich Ebert, Walter Rathenau, Gustav Stresemann, the catastrophes of World War I, the nerve-racking decisions of the Armistice, the fateful Kapp Putsch appear at close range. Observer and participant, Arnold Brecht has written a book which is at once an absorbing personal narrative and a work of applied political theory. $15.00

Princeton University Press

PRINCETON, NEW JERSEY 08540

AUSTRIAN SCHOLARSHIP

The Austrian Ministry of Education will again grant a limited number of scholarships for the academic year 1971-72. One or more of these scholarships can be awarded to American graduate students now working on doctoral dissertations or other research projects in the field of Austrian history. These scholarships carry a monthly stipend of 4,600 Austrian shillings (roughly $177) for nine months. They are definitely not to be used to supplement a stipend received from another scholarship or fellowship. Holders of these scholarships are expected to be in residence at an Austrian university and should have a good command of the German language. The grant itself covers only the cost of tuition and maintenance for a single person. Candidates wishing to apply should send a letter of application together with letters of recommendation and other supporting material including an outline of their research project directly to Professor Robert A. Kann, Department of History, Rutgers University, New Brunswick, New Jersey 08903, before December 1, 1970.

HAJO HOLBORN'S

"crowning achievement"

A History of Modern Germany

From the review by Gordon A. Craig
in The New York Times Book Review:

"During the last decade of his busy life, Holborn wrote the work that is at once the crowning achievement of his scholarly work and the best guarantee of the perpetuation of his influence on future generations of students. The first volume of his A History of Modern Germany, covering the period of the Reformation and the religious wars of the 17th century, was published in 1959 and was followed four years later by the second, on the Enlightenment, the French Revolution, and the reaction that followed the liberation of Germany from Napoleon.

"Both volumes were distinguished by comprehensiveness and objectivity in the treatment of controversial questions . . . This third volume [is] a masterly account of the dramatic, tragic and often shameful history of Germany in the most recent age, which will probably become the most widely read of Holborn's works . . .

"A historian of remarkable scope and penetration, he wrote with equal authority about politics and ideas, about the classical world and the age of the Reformation, about the development of modern strategical theory, and the diplomacy of great powers."

Volume I: The Reformation • $10

Volume II: 1648-1840 • $10.75

Volume III: 1840-1945 • $13.95

Published by Alfred • A • Knopf

