SELECTIONS FROM THE AMERICAN JOURNAL OF INTERNATIONAL LAW:

FUTURE IMPLICATIONS OF THE IRAQ CONFLICT

Will military action in Iraq in spring 2003 lead to fundamental transformation or possible destruction of the UN Charter system of law on the use of force? This inaugural Selections* contains more than a dozen essays on the Iraq conflict—all with an eye to the future—written by a distinguished group of scholars and attorneys, including Eyal Benvenisti, Todd F. Buchwald, Richard A. Falk, Tom J. Farer, Thomas M. Franck, Richard N. Gardner, Thomas D. Grant, Miriam Sapiro, David J. Scheffer, Carsten Stahn, Jane E. Stromseth, Ruth Wedgwood, John Yoo, and the Legal Adviser of the U.S. Department of State, William H. Taft IV. Originally appearing in an Agora in the July and October 2003 issues of the American Journal of International Law, these contributions are supplemented by the six relevant UN resolutions and other materials, making Selections an excellent classroom tool.

*The new Selections from the American Journal of International Law series combines articles, primary source materials, and other information from the AJIL and other resources to provide a comprehensive examination of a specific, timely issue affecting international law.

The Torture Papers: The Road to Abu Ghraib

Edited by
Karen J. Greenberg,
*Center on Law and Security,
New York University School of Law*
Joshua L. Dratel, *Guantanamo
Detainee Defense Attorney*
Introduction by Anthony Lewis

The Torture Papers consists of the reports which US government officials wrote to prepare the way for and to legitimize coercive interrogation, including techniques many would label as torture, in Afghanistan, Guantanamo, and Abu Ghraib.

These documents present for the first time a compilation of materials that prior to publication have existed only piecemeal in the public domain. The Bush Administration, concerned about the legality of harsh interrogation techniques, understood the need to establish a legally viable argument to justify such procedures.

The memos and reports herein document the systematic attempt of the US Government to prepare the way for torture techniques and coercive interrogation practices, forbidden under international law, with the express intent of evading legal punishment in the event that any of these practices and policies were made public.
