Structuring the Information Age

Life Insurance and Technology in the Twentieth Century
JoAnne Yates

“A superb study. Yates provides a well-constructed and convincing study of the application of computer systems to business functioning, the people who brought about the change, and the specific gains in insurance from that application.”

—Arthur Norberg,
University of Minnesota
Studies in Industry and Society
Philip B. Scranton, Series Editor
$49.95 hardcover

The Corporate Eye

Photography and the Rationalization of American Commercial Culture, 1884–1929
Elsbeth H. Brown

“Solidly grounded in the cultural, political and economic history of the Second Industrial Revolution, The Corporate Eye broadens and deepens our understanding of photography’s significance to American enterprise. This work resonates critically and valuably with earlier, heralded studies by David Nye and Roland Marchand, among others, by exploring fresh terrains and refining conceptual frameworks.”

—Philip Scranton

Studies in Industry and Society
Philip B. Scranton, Series Editor
$49.95 hardcover

The Carriage Trade

Making Horse-Drawn Vehicles in America
Thomas A. Kinney

“It is an important book, of size, depth and scope well beyond what else has been written about the American nineteenth-century carriage and wagon industry.”

—Carolyn C. Cooper, Yale University
Studies in Industry and Society
Philip B. Scranton, Series Editor
$49.95 hardcover

Old Dominion, Industrial Commonwealth

Coal, Politics, and Economy in Antebellum America
Sean Patrick Adams

“The definitive account of how and why the coal trade developed as it did in Virginia and Pennsylvania. This is history—political, economic, and cultural history—at its finest.”

—John Lauritz Larson, Purdue University
Studies in Early American Economy and Society from the Library Company of Philadelphia
Cathy Matson, Series Editor
$45.00 hardcover

Standard of Living

The Measure of the Middle Class in Modern America
Marina Moskowitz

“Exceedingly well-written, clearly organized, and abundantly researched. There is nothing in the scholarly literature quite like this.”

—Daniel Horowitz, Smith College
$45.00 hardcover

BEWARE THE WINNER'S CURSE

Victories that Can Sink You and Your Company

G. Anandalingam and Henry C. Lucas, Jr.

In this book, Anandalingam and Lucas, Jr. expand the model of the Winner's Curse to explain how companies like Tyco, MCI-WorldCom and Bank One overpaid for acquisitions, and how shareholders suffered as a result.

2004 256 pp.
0-19-517740-1 $29.95

REASONS AND RATIONALIZATIONS

The Limits to Organizational Knowledge
Chris Argyris

What is the purpose of social science and management research? Do scholars/researchers have a responsibility to generate insights and knowledge that are of practical (implementable) value and validity? These are some of the puzzles/pressing problems that Argyris addresses in this short book.

2004 256 pp.
0-19-926807-X $29.95

SURVIVING TRANSFORMATION

Lessons from GM's Surprising Turnaround
Vincent P. Barabba

THE MISMANAGEMENT OF TALENT

Employability and Jobs in the Knowledge Economy
Phillip Brown, and Anthony Hesketh with Sara Williams

This book examines whether employability policies are flawed because they ignore the realities of 'positional' conflict in the competition for a livelihood, especially as the rise of mass higher education has arguably done little to increase the employability of students for tough-entry jobs.

THE TEXAS RAILROAD COMMISSION

Understanding Regulation in America to the Mid-twentieth Century

WILLIAM R. CHILDS

The TRC oversaw not only railroads, but also petroleum production, natural gas utilities, and motor carriers. Before OPEC came into the picture, this agency was widely believed to set oil prices for the world. Childs's study of the TRC focuses on the interplay between business and regulators, between state and national regulatory commissions, and among the three branches of government through a process of "pragmatic federalism." $35.00

BEN LOVE

My Life in Texas Commerce

FOREWORD BY JAMES A. BAKER, III

Houston business leader Ben Love was the CEO of Texas Commerce Bancshares (TCB) in the 1980s, during the collapse of the Texas banking industry. Under his management, TCB was the only "Big Five" Texas bank to survive the economic downturn, partially because of its successful merger with the Chemical Bank of New York (now J. P. Morgan Chase). This memoir provides an inside look at the life of this exceptional banker and the evolution of banking in Texas. $30.00

GUIDELINES FOR CONTRIBUTORS

GENERAL INFORMATION

Manuscripts are considered for publication on the understanding that they are not concurrently under consideration elsewhere and that the material—in substance as well as form—has not been previously published.

Three copies of the manuscript should be submitted.

Authors should identify themselves only on a separate title page that provides name, mailing address, and telephone number. Authors must also remember not to identify themselves in the body of the manuscript; specifically, references to their own work in the text should be in the third person, and citations should be written without possessive pronouns—not “See my ....”

Potential contributors should initially submit hard copy, not diskettes, but it will save considerable work for all parties in the event of acceptance if authors follow a few rules from the beginning:

- In general, use as few formatting commands as possible.
- Left justify text.
- Do not hyphenate words at the end of lines.
- ALL material—including extracted quotations and notes—must be double spaced.
- Notes should be numbered consecutively and citations should be placed as footnotes or endnotes formatted as indicated by The Chicago Manual of Style (1993).
- Each table and figure must be accompanied by a complete source.

Each article should be accompanied by an abstract of 75 to 100 words outlining the main point(s) of the paper and placing the article in context. Subheads should be used to divide the manuscript into three or four sections (or more, depending on length). We do not have an upper or lower page limit, but articles usually run between 25 and 50 typescript pages, including notes and other material.

We are always eager to publish illustrations, but authors should not include originals of illustrative materials at the time of submission; photocopies of such material may be included. Authors are responsible for obtaining all illustrative materials and permissions for reproduction, and for writing captions.

Authors of accepted manuscripts will receive two copies of the issue in which the article appears and twenty-five offprints.

MANUSCRIPT PREPARATION

We use the 15th edition of The Chicago Manual of Style (2003) and spell and hyphenate words according to the 11th edition of Merriam-Webster's Collegiate Dictionary.

The journal encourages authors to use gender-neutral prose in all cases where it is not anachronistic to do so; male nouns and pronouns should not be used to refer to people of both sexes. We use the day-month-year form for dates, as in 11 Feb. 1998, in the notes, but in the text, dates are written month-day-year, as in February 11, 1998. Double quotation marks should be used for direct quotation; single quotation marks are used for quoted material inside quotations.

SAMPLE CITATION FORMS

Book: Alfred D. Chandler Jr., The Visible Hand: The Managerial Revolution in American Business (Cambridge, Mass., 1977), 321–2.

Journal: Charles Cheape, “Not Politicians but Sound Businessmen: Norton Company and the Third Reich,” Business History Review 62 (Autumn 1988): 444–66.

Note that we do not include the publisher in book citations. We do not use loc. cit., op. cit., or idem., but ibid. (not italicized) may be used.
