

diately inferior to the one which they are working for, and obtain a total of 12 credits, each one the equivalent of 50 hours of seminars, courses, field work or preparation of an original thesis. Among the courses offered during the academic year 1969–1970 were: Sociología de la violencia. Estudio del Caso Colombiano, by Germán Guzman Campos; Sistemas Económicas en las Ciencias Sociales, by François Lartigue, Teorías del cambio sociocultural. Su aplicación a México, by Arturo Warman; Marx y la Antropología: 1) Formaciones socio-económicas precapitalistas, Ángel Palerm; Lengua y Cultura, by Philip K. Bock, invited from the University of New Mexico; Antropología Urbana, by Robert van Kemper, invited from the University of California, Berkeley; Antropología Teórica, by Robert Manners and David Kaplan, invited from Brandeis University; Sistemas de Dominio—Las poblaciones indígenas de México, by Arturo Warman of the Universidad Iberoamericana; Sociedades Campesinas en el Mundo Moderno, by Ángel Palerm of the Universidad Iberoamericana; and Teorías contemporáneas sobre organización social, by Hugo Nutini, invited from the University of Pittsburgh. Further information may be obtained from: Prof Arturo Warman Gryj, Secretario Académico del Instituto de Ciencias Sociales, Cerro de las Torres 395. México 21 D.F. México.

Programa Interamericano de Lingüística y Enseñanza de Idiomas

Specialized linguistics courses for graduate students will be given during a seven week seminar organized by the Programa Interamericano de Lingüística y de Enseñanza de Idiomas and the Asociación de Lingüística y Filología de la América Latina, in collaboration with the University of Puerto Rico. Courses will cover theoretical and applied linguistics, Ibero-American linguistics, language teaching and other fields of interest. For further information write to: Yolanda Lastra, Secretaría Ejecutivo, Matías Romero 87-C México 13, D.F.

Movement of Professionals

American University: Harold E. Davis has been engaged as a consultant by the Cincinnati Council on World Affairs for the development of Latin American Studies in the tri-state group of colleges served by the Council.

Universidad de los Andes, Bogotá: Harold E. Hinds Jr. was an Associate Research Fellow during the academic year 1969–1970; and Miguel A. Bretos was appointed Associate Researcher in December 1969. Bretos is also visiting professor at the Pontificia Universidad Javeriana, teaching a seminar on Colombian historiography and historical methodology.

Arizona State University: Manuel P. Serwin was recently appointed Full Professor.

Federal University of Bahía, Brazil: Emilio Willems, Professor of Anthropology at Vanderbilt University, will take up a post at the University of Bahía in the Fall of 1970.

University of California, Los Angeles: The following visiting Latin Americans have accepted posts at UCLA: Ricardo Velluti (Anatomy), Jorge Elliot (Art), Claudio Véliz (History), Salvador Hackman Celia (Microbiology), Jorge Preloran (Theater Arts), Gui-

Latin American Research Review

Ilermo Araya and Leónidas Morales-Toro (Spanish and Portuguese), and Sergio Fuenzalida (Radiology).

University of California at Irvine: Demetrio Aguilera Malta of Ecuador holds a post in the Department of Spanish and Portuguese.

University of California at Riverside: Carlos E. Cortes was recently named Chairman of the Latin American Studies Department.

City University of New York: Solena V. Bryant has been promoted to Assistant Professor at Queens College.

Colorado State University: Manuel Alers-Montalvo, Director of the Center for Latin American Studies and Professor of Sociology, returned in September 1969 from a one-year leave of absence in Venezuela, where he was a U.N. Advisor to the Center for Training and Applied Research in Community Development, in Jusepín.

Columbia University: José Honorio Rodrigues has a post at the Latin American Institute of Columbia University, New York.

Cuzco, Peru: Joseph Spielberg, of the Department of Anthropology, Michigan State University, is a Fulbright Lecturer at the University of Cuzco in Peru until September 1970.

Dowling College: Newly elected History-Coordinator is Norman Holub.

University of Florida, Gainesville: David Denslow Jr. will join the Department of Economics as Assistant Professor in September 1970.

Governor's State University, Illinois: Rodolfo Martínez has been appointed as Director of Academic Development at this new university.

Indiana University: Ricardo Francisco Benavides of Chile was Visiting Professor in the Department of Spanish and Portuguese for the academic year 1969-1970. Roberto Koch of Peru, is in the Department of Sociology and Social Work.

Johns Hopkins University: James L. Payne has moved from the Wesleyan University to the School of Advanced International Studies at Johns Hopkins.

LASA: New Executive Secretary of the Latin American Studies Association is John Cobb.

Louisiana State University: Herman Daly returns to LSU this Summer after a year as Visiting Research Professor at the Yale Economic Growth Center.

Colegio de México: Joseph Matluck of the University of Texas will be Visiting Professor of Hispanic Linguistics at the Colegio de México for the Fall Semester 1970-71. He will teach a graduate course in Hispanic phonetics and will direct a research project on "Mexican Intonation: A Comparative Study of Dialect Zones."

Michigan State University: Gloria Iturri of Chile and Samuel Dickerson of Honduras are in the Departments of Microbiology and Public Health, and Physiology, respectively.

New Mexico State University: Emmi Baum has left the Faculty of this University to become President of the Pan-American Development Corporation. She is working with the Ministries of Education in Mexico and Brazil in the areas of vocational education and is also involved in the establishment of a permanent Inter-American Trade and Cultural Center in Las Cruces.

New York State Education Department: Yolanda Loli of Peru will work as Curriculum Consultant for the New York State Education Dept. during the academic year 1970-1971, advising on curriculum about Latin America for elementary and secondary schools.

New York University: Nicolas Sánchez-Albornoz of Argentina holds a post at the Ibero-American Language and Area Center of the Department of History, and Pedro Cuperman of Argentina, works in the Department of Politics in the same Center.

Niagara Community College: Miriam Gofin has been appointed Assistant Professor of History at Niagara Community College where she is expanding the curriculum of Latin American History.

Ohio University: Sergio Mondragón of Mexico is in the Department of English and Modern Languages and the Latin American Studies Committee, Center for International Studies in Athens, Ohio.

University of Paris: Ronald Hilton of Stanford University has been invited to deliver a series of lectures on Latin America at the University of Paris this Spring.

University of Pittsburgh: Geoffrey W. Ribbans, Director of the Centre for Latin American Studies and Gilmour Professor of Spanish at the University of Liverpool, England, will succeed Professor A. A. Parker as Visiting Andrew Mellon Professor of Hispanic Languages and Literatures during the Fall and Winter terms, 1970–1971. Emilio Carballido the Mexican playwright will be Visiting Associate Professor of Hispanic Languages and Literatures for the same period.

San Salvador: Robert P. Vichas, Associate Professor of Economics, West Georgia College, has been granted a leave of absence to serve as Fulbright Professor at José Simeón Cañas University in San Salvador, El Salvador, El Salvador from July 1 to December 31, 1970.

University of São Paulo: Alexandro Severino, Associate Professor of Portuguese, Vanderbilt University, will be at the Institute of Portuguese Studies, University of São Paulo, Brazil during 1970–1971.

Southern University, New Orleans: William Arceneaux has left Northwestern State College to accept a position as Assistant Professor of History at Southern University.

Southern Illinois: Robert L. Gold has returned to Southern Illinois University and has been promoted to Associate Professor.

Spanish Institute of New York: Carleton Sprague Smith is the new Director.

St. Anthony's College, Oxford: Visiting scholars in 1970 included Pablo Macera, Fernando Cepeda, Oscar Cornblit, Thomas Cochran and Victor Paz Estensoro.

State University of New York at Buffalo: Marvin D. Bernstein has been appointed Professor.

State University of New York at Fredonia: William D. Raat has accepted an appointment as Professor.

Sweet Briar College: León F. Sensabaugh will be Visiting Professor of Latin American History during the academic year 1970.

University of Texas at Austin: Friedrich Katz and Juan Friede will be Visiting Professor of Latin American History; Pablo Beltrán Heredia and Maria de Lourdes Belchior Ponees, Visiting Professors of Spanish and Portuguese; David Garza, Assistant Professor of Government. New Latin Americanist in the Faculty include Richard Graham and James Lockhart, History, and Richard Blood, Geography. New Director of the Hispanic American Historic Review is Stanley R. Ross, Director of the Institute of Latin American Studies of the University of Texas at Austin.

University of Toronto: The "Latin American in Residence" Chair is filled in turn by each of the six departments which form the Latin American Studies Program. In 1968–69 it was held by Manuel Zapata Olivella, at present by Florestan Fernandes and next year (1970–71) the Chilean historian Rolando Mellafe has been appointed by the History Department. He will be succeeded by José Nun for 1971–72. Appointments by the Departments of Geography and Anthropology in 1972–73 and 1973–74 will complete the first cycle of this post.

Tulane University: Ralph Lee Woodward, Jr., has been appointed Professor of Latin American History from September 1970.

National University of Tucumán, Argentina: Guy Bensusan of Northern Arizona University, Flagstaff, will be Fulbright Professor of Literature for the year starting July 1970.

Vanderbilt University, Tennessee: Annibal Cillela of Brazil is at the Graduate Center for Latin American Studies as Visiting Professor of Economics, Spring Semester, 1970.

Jorge Alberto Capriata D'Auro, head of the Department of Social Sciences, Pontificia Universidad Católica del Perú will be at Vanderbilt for the Spring Semester, 1971.

University of West Florida: Alan M. Kirsbner has been appointed Assistant Professor of Latin American History.

University of Wisconsin: Members of the

Latin American Research Review

Faculty in Latin America are as follows: James W. Converse, Teaching and research at the University of Rio Grande do Sul, Brazil, in Rural Sociology; until February 1971; Ronald J. Clark, Director of the Land Tenure Center in Bolivia until June 1970; Lincoln E. Engelbert, Chief of Party, U. W. Project at the Rio Grande do Sul until June 1971; John H. Fett, Teaching and research at the Rio Grande do Sul, in Agricultural Journalism until June 1971; Robert E. Hastings, Teaching and research in crop physiology at the University of Rio Grande do Sul, until February 1971; Walter S. Plaut is working on a program to enhance the basic sciences at the Universidad Agrária, Peru, until August 1970; Richard D. Powers, teaching and advising graduate students in communication research, Chapingo, Mexico, until July 1970.

Yale University: Jorge E. Hardoy of the Instituto Torcuato di Tella, Buenos Aires and Maria G. Acosta de Crema of Venezuela will be at Yale for the calendar year 1970.

LIBRARIES

Education and World Affairs has established a Data Bank which will provide rapid and up-to-date answers to questions about the international dimensions of higher education in the United States. So far, it has processed a total of 2,185 programs at 522 U.S. universities and colleges. The information was obtained through questionnaires sent to the institutions, and is punched on EDP cards which can then be used to print selective inventories based on such variables as type of program, subject-matter, field, foreign country involved, and sources of funding. Examples of the type of analyses made possible by the data bank appeared in the February issues of EWA's publication, Intercultural Education. A tabular summary indicated that of the 2,185 programs, 408 involved study abroad for an academic year, and 405 comprised language and area studies. Of the latter, the largest numbers focus on Latin America (30.1%) and Asia (27.7%). EWA is a private, non profit organization largely funded by the Ford Foundation and Carnegie Corporation of New York. The data bank is located at its headquarters in New York, and inquiries may be directed there: 522 Fifth V Avenue, New York 10036, or to its Washington office at 1755 Massachusetts Avenue, NW 20036.

The Office of External Research, U.S. Department of State, has recently published: Foreign Affairs Research: A Directory of Governmental Resources. It includes descriptive listings of U.S. Government agencies and offices which offer financial assistance to scholars engaged in foreign affairs research. Mailing addresses of everyone you might want to contact to get financial or other help in research are listed. Copies from: Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Govt. Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402, for 55 Cents. Ask for Dept. of State Publication 8277, LC 79-604442.

The Hoover Institution has now made available on microfilm an impor-