

Religions of Late Antiquity in Practice

Edited by Richard Valantasis

This is an unprecedented collection of nearly 70 Late Antique primary religious texts. These texts—all in new English translation and many appearing in English for the first time—represent every major religious current from the late first century until the rise of Islam. Produced through the efforts of 36 leading scholars in the field, they constitute a comprehensive view of religious practice in Late Antiquity.

This rich sourcebook includes discussions of asceticism, religious organization, ritual, martyrdom, religion's social implications, law, and theology. Its unique emphasis on practice and its inclusion of texts translated from lesser-known languages advance the study of religious history. Each text is accompanied by an introduction and a bibliography for further reading and research.

REGISTERS OF THE CONSISTORY OF GENEVA IN THE TIME OF CALVIN

Volume 1: 1542–1544

ROBERT M. KINGDON, general editor

THOMAS A. LAMBERT and ISABELLA M. WATT, editors

M. WALLACE McDONALD, translator

This critical edition of the Registers of the Consistory of Geneva in the time of John Calvin reveals what life was like during the Protestant Reformation in a city where ecclesiastical discipline affected many. These valuable primary source documents — the great bulk of which have remained unknown to most modern researchers — are of capital importance for study of this seminal period in church history.

Volume 1 documents the activity of the Consistory between 1542 and 1544. Rich in details pertaining to daily life and piety in Geneva, these records from the Consistory's earliest days testify to the immense role played by the church in society at the beginning of the Reformation.
