This journal disseminates the latest work of researchers in the social and biological sciences who study the older population of Canada and other countries; informs policy debates relevant to aging; seeks to improve the quality of life for Canada’s older population and for older populations in other parts of the world through the publication of research that focuses on the broad range of relevant issues; and encourages the exchange of the latest ideas in gerontological research.
The Journal of Social Policy carries high quality articles on all aspects of social policy in an international context. It places particular emphasis upon articles which seek to contribute to debates on the future direction of social policy, to present new empirical data, to advance theories, or to analyse issues in the making and implementation of social policies.
