CONTENTS

Special Issue: Global Social Indicators: Constructing Transnational Legitimacy

Articles
433–433 Introductory note
David Nelken

434–435 Introduction: Global social indicators: constructing transnational legitimacy
David Nelken and Mathias Siems

436–449 Global social indicators and the concept of legitimacy
Mathias Siems and David Nelken

450–464 From accuracy to accountability: subjecting global indicators to the rule of law
Benoit Frydman

465–484 Supping with the Devil? Indicators and the rise of managerial rationality in law
David Restrepo Amariles

485–497 The poverty of numbers: reflections on the legitimacy of global development indicators
Morag Goodwin

498–511 The re-co-construction of legitimacy of/through the Doing Business indicators
Amanda Perry-Kessaris

512–526 Fighting global poverty
Thomas Pogge

Book Symposiums

Anyone with a Review in progress with Helen should contact rorourke@cambridge.org to check on the status.

Manuscript preparation

Articles should be written in English. They should not have been published already, nor should they be under consideration elsewhere.

Authors, particularly those whose first language is not English, may wish to have their English language manuscript checked by a native speaker before submission. This is optional, but may help to ensure that the academic content of the paper is fully understood by the editor and any reviewers. We list a number of third party services specializing in language editing and/or translation, and suggest that authors contact appropriate agencies.

References to UK statutes should be made as follows. Except for Acts, a short reference is sufficient.

Matrimonial Causes Act 1973, s.2-3

Statutory instruments should be referred to by name and date (short title) followed by the number of the relevant Statutory Instrument (e.g. Statutory Instrument 1957, No.123).

Tables should be presented as shown above, but the table should have short descriptive titles. All figures should be credited with copyright and it is the responsibility of the author to ensure that the appropriate acknowledgements are included in the manuscript.

Ethics

Illustrations should be used rather than endnotes. Each time a reference is used in the text, the appropriate reference should be included in the reference list at the end of the text (i.e. short title) followed by the number e.g. Local Government Jnl 20, no.1, p.5–12.

Citations in new editions of previously published works should include the date of the original edition and the new edition in the text and in the reference list e.g. (1976/1981).

References to UK statutes should be made as follows.

Matrimonial Causes Act 1973, s.2-3

Statutory instruments should be referred to by name and date (short title) followed by the number of the relevant Statutory Instrument (e.g. Statutory Instrument 1957, No.123).

Tables should be presented as shown above, but the table should have short descriptive titles. All figures should be credited with copyright and it is the responsibility of the author to ensure that the appropriate acknowledgements are included in the manuscript.

Ethics

Illustrations should be used rather than endnotes. Each time a reference is used in the text, the appropriate reference should be included in the reference list at the end of the text (i.e. short title) followed by the number e.g. Local Government Jnl 20, no.1, p.5–12.

Citations in new editions of previously published works should include the date of the original edition and the new edition in the text and in the reference list e.g. (1976/1981).

References to UK statutes should be made as follows.

Matrimonial Causes Act 1973, s.2-3

Statutory instruments should be referred to by name and date (short title) followed by the number of the relevant Statutory Instrument (e.g. Statutory Instrument 1957, No.123).

Tables should be presented as shown above, but the table should have short descriptive titles. All figures should be credited with copyright and it is the responsibility of the author to ensure that the appropriate acknowledgements are included in the manuscript.

Ethics

Illustrations should be used rather than endnotes. Each time a reference is used in the text, the appropriate reference should be included in the reference list at the end of the text (i.e. short title) followed by the number e.g. Local Government Jnl 20, no.1, p.5–12.

Citations in new editions of previously published works should include the date of the original edition and the new edition in the text and in the reference list e.g. (1976/1981).

References to UK statutes should be made as follows.

Matrimonial Causes Act 1973, s.2-3

Statutory instruments should be referred to by name and date (short title) followed by the number of the relevant Statutory Instrument (e.g. Statutory Instrument 1957, No.123).

Tables should be presented as shown above, but the table should have short descriptive titles. All figures should be credited with copyright and it is the responsibility of the author to ensure that the appropriate acknowledgements are included in the manuscript.

Ethics

Illustrations should be used rather than endnotes. Each time a reference is used in the text, the appropriate reference should be included in the reference list at the end of the text (i.e. short title) followed by the number e.g. Local Government Jnl 20, no.1, p.5–12.

Citations in new editions of previously published works should include the date of the original edition and the new edition in the text and in the reference list e.g. (1976/1981).

References to UK statutes should be made as follows.

Matrimonial Causes Act 1973, s.2-3

Statutory instruments should be referred to by name and date (short title) followed by the number of the relevant Statutory Instrument (e.g. Statutory Instrument 1957, No.123).

Tables should be presented as shown above, but the table should have short descriptive titles. All figures should be credited with copyright and it is the responsibility of the author to ensure that the appropriate acknowledgements are included in the manuscript.

Ethics

Illustrations should be used rather than endnotes. Each time a reference is used in the text, the appropriate reference should be included in the reference list at the end of the text (i.e. short title) followed by the number e.g. Local Government Jnl 20, no.1, p.5–12.

Citations in new editions of previously published works should include the date of the original edition and the new edition in the text and in the reference list e.g. (1976/1981).

References to UK statutes should be made as follows.

Matrimonial Causes Act 1973, s.2-3

Statutory instruments should be referred to by name and date (short title) followed by the number of the relevant Statutory Instrument (e.g. Statutory Instrument 1957, No.123).

Tables should be presented as shown above, but the table should have short descriptive titles. All figures should be credited with copyright and it is the responsibility of the author to ensure that the appropriate acknowledgements are included in the manuscript.

Ethics

Illustrations should be used rather than endnotes. Each time a reference is used in the text, the appropriate reference should be included in the reference list at the end of the text (i.e. short title) followed by the number e.g. Local Government Jnl 20, no.1, p.5–12.

Citations in new editions of previously published works should include the date of the original edition and the new edition in the text and in the reference list e.g. (1976/1981).

References to UK statutes should be made as follows.

Matrimonial Causes Act 1973, s.2-3

Statutory instruments should be referred to by name and date (short title) followed by the number of the relevant Statutory Instrument (e.g. Statutory Instrument 1957, No.123).

Tables should be presented as shown above, but the table should have short descriptive titles. All figures should be credited with copyright and it is the responsibility of the author to ensure that the appropriate acknowledgements are included in the manuscript.

Ethics

Illustrations should be used rather than endnotes. Each time a reference is used in the text, the appropriate reference should be included in the reference list at the end of the text (i.e. short title) followed by the number e.g. Local Government Jnl 20, no.1, p.5–12.
Contents

Articles

433–433 Introductory note
David Nelken

434–435 Introduction: Global social indicators: constructing transnational legitimacy
David Nelken and Mathias Siems

436–449 Global social indicators and the concept of legitimacy
Mathias Siems and David Nelken

450–464 From accuracy to accountability: subjecting global indicators to the rule of law
Benoit Frydman

465–484 Supping with the Devil? Indicators and the rise of managerial rationality in law
David Restrepo Amariles

485–497 The poverty of numbers: reflections on the legitimacy of global development indicators
Morag Goodwin

498–511 The re-co-construction of legitimacy of/through the Doing Business indicators
Amanda Perry-Kessaris

512–526 Fighting global poverty
Thomas Pogge

Review Symposiums

527–533 Spring-boarding into new contexts: reflections on Eve Darian-Smith's Laws and Societies in Global Contexts: Contemporary Approaches
Julia Dehm

534–536 Darian-Smith's gallery of alternative legalities
Maria Rosaria Ferrarese

537–540 A reflection on re-racialising: comments on Eve Darian-Smith’s book, Laws and Societies in Global Contexts
Morag Goodwin

541–543 An outsider’s comment on Eve Darian-Smith's Laws and Societies in Global Contexts
Isabel C. Jaramillo-Sierra

544–552 Overcoming legal orientalism in context? Reflections on Eve Darian-Smith’s Laws and Societies in Global Contexts: Contemporary Approaches
Emma Nyhan

https://doi.org/10.1017/S1744552317000611 Published online by Cambridge University Press
553–557 Reassembling global law: reflections on Laws and Societies in Global Contexts
Gavin Sullivan

558–561 Contextualising Boaventura de Sousa Santos's post-colonial legal theory
José-Manuel Barreto

562–565 Who decides what is emancipatory? Brief insights on Sousa Santos's Toward a New Legal Common Sense
Marisa N. Fassi

566–569 The emperor's new clothes: an attempt at an epistemic conquest of legal invisibility
Antara Haldar

570–573 Reflections on Boaventura de Sousa Santos's Toward a New Legal Common Sense: Law, Globalization and Emancipation, 2nd edn
Marium Jabyn

https://doi.org/10.1017/S1744552317000611 Published online by Cambridge University Press