Central European History
is available online at:
<http://journals.cambridge.org/ccc>

Central European History offers articles, review essays, and book reviews that range widely through the history of Germany, Austria, and other German-speaking regions of Central Europe from the medieval era to the present. All topics and approaches to history are welcome, whether cultural, social, political, diplomatic, intellectual, economic, and military history, as well as historiography and methodology. Contributions that treat new fields, such as post-1945 and post-1989 history, maturing fields such as gender history, and less-represented fields such as medieval history and the history of the Habsburg lands are especially desired. The journal thus aims to be the primary venue for scholarly exchange and debate among scholars of the history of Central Europe.

AJS Review

THE JOURNAL OF THE ASSOCIATION FOR JEWISH STUDIES

INSTRUCTIONS FOR CONTRIBUTORS

AJS Review publishes scholarly articles and book reviews covering all areas of the field of Jewish Studies, from biblical and rabbinic studies, to history, social sciences, cultural studies, the arts, and literature. Articles published by the AJS Review reflect both original research and active engagement with recent scholarly literature. The journal welcomes new submissions of previously unpublished articles of high quality that may be of interest to both academic and lay audiences around the world.

MANUSCRIPT SUBMISSION

Manuscripts for consideration should be e-mailed as a MS Word or rich text file to the AJS Review managing editor, Stanley Mirvis at ajsreview@ajs.cjh.org. Manuscripts of between 8,000 and 10,000 words should conform to Chicago Manual of Style, ed. 15A (footnotes). The entire manuscript (including footnotes) should be double-spaced on 8½ x 11 inch or A4 paper (or the digital equivalent) with no less than 1-inch margins on all four sides. Manuscript pages should be numbered consecutively. A separate cover page should be attached with the author's name, affiliation, and a short abstract around 200 words. The author's name, or any indication of his or her identity, should not appear in the text of the article or footnotes. Authors of accepted articles will be asked to prepare a final version in the journal's style and to submit it electronically in both the MS Word format and as a PDF.

COPYRIGHT

Submission of an article is taken to imply that it has not been previously published and is not being considered for publication elsewhere. The editors of the AJS Review will not consider any article previously published in any language. Authors must obtain permission for material for which they do not own the copyright. A Copyright Transfer Agreement, with certain specified rights reserved by the author, must be signed and returned to the Editors by authors of accepted manuscripts, prior to publication. This is necessary for the protection of both the author and the Association for Jewish Studies under copyright law.
