Instructions for contributors

Editorial policy
Each issue of European Review includes a wide range of articles and features of immediate interest to an intellectual readership worldwide. The journal aims to stimulate and develop thought and discussion with contributions from distinguished writers in academic, professional and public life. European Review continues to stimulate forum for the exchange of ideas and information.

Submissions
Intending authors should first consult the Editor about their plans.

Submissions should be sent by email to the Editor.

Professor Theo O’Hara, then the Editor European Review.

The author’s full postal address, as well as email address, telephone, and fax numbers where available, should also appear on a front sheet in the file. Submissions should be in Word.

Submissions will be paper to try to make it is unpublished and is not being considered for publication elsewhere.

Upon acceptance of a paper, the author will be asked to assign copyright (on certain conditions) to the Academic Europaea. Contributors are responsible for obtaining permission to reproduce any material in which they do not hold copyright and for ensuring that the appropriate acknowledgements are included in their manuscript.

Before you submit your typescript, please check it carefully for factual and stylistic consistency, as correction at a later stage is expensive and can delay progress. Special care should be taken in checking quotations and bibliographical references for accuracy, especially spelling, accents, page and line numbers.

Manuscript preparation
Contributors should submit a copy of manuscripts to the Editor in Word format — this should include all artwork. Files should be named ERWsmith.txt or ERWsmith.doc. Final files should be submitted in the same way. The name should be changed to ERWsmith2.doc or pdf. Final figures can be submitted as eps or tif files, or jpeg files if the content does not contain a lot of text material. Names should use the convention ERWsmith_3.jpg.

The publisher reserves the right to charge for the cost of any additional material prepared by a contributor.

Layout of manuscript
The title should be brief. It should appear on a separate sheet, with the author’s name typed on the line below the title. Papers should be divided into sections and, if necessary, subsections. Authors should submit a brief autobiography of 75–100 words along with the paper. Mathematical symbols may be hand-written or typed.

Greek letters and unusual signs should be identified separately in the margin. Distinction should be made between letter m and s, and between l and I and type face. All abbreviations should be defined the first time they appear by the full name. Boldface, italics, and emphasis are to be avoided, though used, for words taken from other languages and not integrated in the language of the text.

Descriptions which are not acceptable, endnotes should be substituted but should be separate from references. They should be indicated in the text by square lower case letters.
