The Osun-Osogbo Grove as a Social Common and an Uncommon Ground: An Analysis of Patrimonial Patronage in Postcolonial Nigeria—ERRATUM

doi: 10.1017/S0940739114000058

In Akinwumi Ogundiran’s article “The Osun-Osogbo Grove as a Social Common and an Uncommon Ground: An Analysis of Patrimonial Patronage in Postcolonial Nigeria,” figures 5–7 contained errors. Figure 5 was placed sideways, and the captions for figures 6 and 7 were switched.

Incorrect copy:

Correct copy:

The publisher sincerely regrets these errors.
