Language and Learning in the Cooperative Classroom

1988. 7 figures. XVI, 176 pages.
(Recent Research in Psychology).
Soft cover DM 54,-. ISBN 3-540-96708-7

The findings in this volume are discussed in terms of their relevance to classroom instruction, to different theories of language behavior and language research, and to issues regarding ethnic relations in multi-ethnic classrooms.

R. Säljö, Linköping (Ed.)

The Written World

Studies in Literate Thought and Action
1988. 7 figures. Approx. 225 pages. (Springer Series in Language and Communication, Volume 23).
Hard cover DM 88,-. ISBN 3-540-18145-8

This analysis covers in detail the impact of written language on a broad range of issues that relate to human development in both an ontogenetic and a phylogenetic perspective, together with the relationship of written language to oral and literate practices.

M. E. Wingate, Pullmann

The Structure of Stuttering

A Psycholinguistic Analysis
1988. 16 figures. Approx. 335 pages. Hard cover.
ISBN 3-540-96722-2. In preparation.

The author's account of the nature of stuttering is derived from careful analysis of relevant research on language elements, of linguistic, neurolinguistic, and psycholinguistic aspects, and of an extensive comparative study of language function in stuttering.

Critical Essays on Language Use and Psychology

Foreword by R. Rommetreit
1988. Approx. 376 pages.
Soft cover DM 48,-. ISBN 3-540-96703-6

This book challenges traditional interaction between linguistics and contemporary psychology and aims to encourage a radical reorientation of the psychology of language use.

H. A. Whitaker (Ed.)

Phonological Processes and Brain Mechanisms

1988. 10 figures, 10 tables. Approx. 185 pages.
(Springer Series in Neuropsychology). Hard cover.
ISBN 3-540-96604-8. In preparation.

The studies in the volume report on a number of important topics, such as a neuronal model for processing segmental phonology, the role of the thalamus and basal ganglia in language processing, and oral reading in dyslexia.

W. Dressler, J. A. Stark, Vienna (Eds.)

Linguistic Analyses of Aphasic Language

1988. 20 figures. Approx. 365 pages.
(Springer Series in Neuropsychology).
Hard cover DM 88,-. ISBN 3-540-96692-7

The findings and applied methods are relevant both to the study of aphasia in general and to cross-linguistic analyses; and they have clear implications for language and speech therapy.

E. v. Savigny, Bielefeld

The Social Foundations of Meaning

1988. Approx. 160 pages.
Soft cover DM 49,-. ISBN 3-540-19006-6

An empirical case study is used here to analyze linguistic meaning as it is embedded in complex social behavior. The whole of a natural signalling system – its nonlinguistic conventions, pragmatics and semantics – is considered.

Prices are subject to change without notice.

NOTES FOR CONTRIBUTORS

Contributions are welcomed from all countries. They should be written in English. All articles, as well as books for review and listing, should be sent to Professor Dell Hymes, Editor, Department of Anthropology, University of Virginia, Charlottesville, VA 22903, U.S.A.

Typescripts. The original typescript plus one copy should be submitted. Authors should hold a copy for correction of proofs. Contributions should be clearly typed, double-spaced, on 8-1/2 × 11" or A4 paper. Figures should be ready for photographic reproduction: any labels and details should be clear and large enough to remain legible after a 50% reduction. The article title-page should include the title, author's name and affiliation (in that order), along with an abstract of the article. An abstract must be less than 150 words. Areas of study should be listed at the end of the abstract.

Titles should be so worded that the first part may be used as a running head (with a maximum length of 50 characters, including spaces). The title should be typed on a separate sheet with the author's name and address to which proofs are to be sent.

Citations and forms of emphasis. Normally the Latin alphabet is to be used. Cited forms should be underlined to represent italicization in print. Translation "meanings" should be placed within single quotation marks.

References are to be made in the text (not in the endnotes) by giving in parentheses the name of the author, year of publication, and where relevant, the page(s) referred to: e.g., (Whitney 1867:45–53). If the author's name is part of the text, the following form should be used: "Whitney (1867:48) maintained that . . .". When a work written by two or more authors is referred to, all names should be given in the first citation: e.g., (Weinreich, Labov, & Herzog 1968). In subsequent citations, only the first name should be given, followed by "et al.": e.g., (Weinreich et al. 1968). Separate works referred to in the same parentheses should be listed in alphabetical order; those by the same author should be separated by commas and those by different authors by semi-colons: e.g., (Firth 1935, 1957a; Whitney 1867). Initials should be used (after the author's name) only when it is necessary to distinguish between two or more authors with the same surname referred to in the same article.

All works referred to must be listed at the end of the article, double-spaced and in alphabetical order.

Book reviews and notices. With the exception of the title-page, book reviews and notices should be submitted in the same form as articles. The title-page should take the following form: Henk Haverkate, Speech acts, speakers, and hearers: Reference and referential strategies in Spanish. (Pragmatics & Beyond V:4.) Amsterdam and Philadelphia: John Benjamins, 1984. Pp. xi + 142. On the last page, following the entire review text (including endnotes and references), the review author's name and address should be given as follows:

Reviewed by Beatriz R. Lavandera
Instituto de Lingüística
Universidad de Buenos Aires
Buenos Aires, Argentina

There is no need to submit an abstract with a book review or notice.

Proofs. First proofs will be sent to the lead author (or a nominee), who will be expected to correct and return them to the Editor, by airmail where appropriate, within three days of receipt.

Offprints. 25 offprints of the article will be provided free of charge to the lead author. Additional offprints may be purchased if ordered at proof stage.

Submission of an article is taken to imply that it has not previously been published, or is not being considered for publication elsewhere. If an author is publishing a related article elsewhere, this fact should be stated.

Copyright. Contributors of accepted articles will be asked to assign their copyrights, on certain conditions, to Cambridge University Press, to help protect their material, particularly in the U.S.A.
