NOTES FOR CONTRIBUTORS

Contemporary European History covers the history of central and western European countries, including the United Kingdom, from 1918 to the present. By combining a wide geographical compass with a relatively short time span, the journal achieves both range and depth. It is open to all forms of historical enquiry – including cultural, economic, international, political and social approaches – and welcomes comparative and transnational analysis.

Submissions

Articles submitted for publication should be sent electronically to Contemporary European History, at ceh@sheffield.ac.uk, or, in the case of submissions from North America, to the Corresponding Editor for North America, Professor Amir Weiner, weiner@stanford.edu.

Articles should normally be about 8,000 words long, the total to include footnotes. Review articles should not exceed 5,000 words.

The journal is published in English, and contributions are normally submitted in that language; however, we will also consider articles submitted in other major European languages. If accepted for publication, these will be translated. All articles, including those commissioned, will be refereed.

An abstract of each article is published in English, French and German.

Submission of a paper will be taken to imply that it is unpublished and is not being considered for publication elsewhere. On acceptance of a paper, the author will be asked to assign copyright (on certain conditions) to Cambridge University Press. An article cannot be published unless a signed copyright form is returned promptly.

Contributors are responsible for obtaining permission to reproduce any material in which they do not hold copyright and for ensuring that the appropriate acknowledgments are included in their text.

The editors would be grateful if contributors kept closely to the journal's stylistic conventions. Copy-editing is time-consuming and the editors will return any contribution which does not follow the conventions for correction and re-typing.

Prospective authors should refer to the full set of instructions for contributors by following the link at http://www.journals.cambridge.org/ceh

Contributors of accepted papers should send a final version via email. This should include:

1. the text, which should begin with the title, the author's name and email and postal address, and the author's affiliation as he/she would wish it to appear
2. a 100-word summary of the article in English, French or German
3. a short title for use as a running page-head
4. a statement of the article's length in number of words (including both text and footnotes), and a list of tables, graphs, maps and any other illustrative material (each of which should be supplied as a separate file)
5. a short description of work in progress and previously published work
