Bilingualism: Language and Cognition

RLC is an international peer-reviewed journal focusing on bilingualism from a linguistic, psycholinguistic, and neurolinguistic perspective. The aims of the journal are to promote research on the bilingual and multilingual person, and to encourage debate in the field. Areas covered include: bilingual language competence, bilingual language processing, bilingual language acquisition in children and adults, brain-damaged bilinguals, neurolinguistics of bilingualism in normal and brain-damaged individuals, computational modelling of bilingual language competence and performance, and the study of cognitive functions in bilinguals. RLC carries articles and research notes on all aspects of the bilingual person, and is published four times a year.
