new community

A journal of research and policy on ethnic relations

Editor: Malcolm Cross

Published for the Commission for Racial Equality, New Community is a quarterly academic journal on the research and policy related aspects of race and ethnic relations, racial inequality, racism, ethnicity, migration and related topics. While mainly British in its orientation, the journal also carries comparative material on the US and other European countries. As well as issues of general interest, the forthcoming volume will include theme issues on Race and inner city policy and on Race and the Health Services.

New Community publishes biannual reports on the latest developments in the fields of law, politics, social services, employment, education and housing and urban policy. The journal also includes an extensive book review section.

Subscriptions to Volume 15, the issues of which are published in October 1988 and January, February and July 1989, are available for:

Institutions £16.00
Individuals £12.00

The American Sociologist

James L. McCartney, editor
(University of Missouri, Columbia)

Examines the history, current status, and future prospects of sociology as a profession and discipline. The journal emphasizes the comings and goings of the profession, and focuses on how sociologists have shaped or try to shape social policy and the intellectual issues of the age. It also publishes professional opinions, special features, interviews, and review essays.

Recent articles include:

Howard S. Becker discusses graduate education.
James S. Coleman reviews the role of social policy research in society and in sociology.
Richard A. Berk suggests the possible consequences of AIDS.
Sylvia Kenig discusses the use of theory in applied sociology.
Walter Gove argues that sociobiology misses the mark.
David Jenness anticipates future patterns of support for sociology.
Bruce Wiegand suggests the political considerations of studying tax compliance.

Journal of Social Policy

Notes for Contributors

1. All contributions and correspondence should be sent to: The Editor, Journal of Social Policy, Department of Social Policy and Sociology, University of Leeds, Leeds LS2 9JT. All books for review should be sent to: The Review Editor, Journal of Social Policy, Department of Social Policy, University of Newcastle, Newcastle upon Tyne NE1 7RN.
2. Articles should generally contain between 5,000 and 8,000 words including footnotes, although longer or shorter articles may be accepted by arrangement with the editor. Short articles stand a better chance of early publication.
3. Submission of an article is taken to imply that it has not previously been published, or is not being considered for publication elsewhere. If an author is publishing a related article elsewhere, this fact should be stated.
4. Contributions (articles, review articles, reviews) should be clearly typed on one side of the paper only using a conventional size of paper, preferably A4. All material should be typed double-spaced with generous margins. Contributors should send two copies and keep one copy of the typescript for correcting proofs.
5. Contributions should be accompanied by an abstract of between one and two hundred words, and a title page providing information about the position/s held by the author/s and giving full details of any acknowledgements.
6. Contributions should conform to the usual journal style and a brief style sheet is available from the editor on request. Particular attention should be paid to the journal requirements about references and tables. Contributors are expected to write in gender-neutral language.
7. Notes should not contain bibliographical references: these should be built into the text and the Harvard (author/date) system used. Such notes as are essential should be referred to in numerical order throughout the text and the numbers shown as superscript. Notes and bibliographical references should be typed (double-spaced) as separate sections at the end of the article.
8. Tables should be clearly laid out and designed to fit on to a page 234 mm × 155 mm. Vertical lines between columns should be omitted, and horizontal lines limited to the top and bottom of the table, with an additional one below the column headings. Totals and percentages should be labelled, and units identified.
9. First proofs may be read and corrected by contributors provided that they can give the editor an address through which they can be reached without delay and can guarantee to return the corrected proofs to the editor, by airmail where appropriate, within seven days of receiving them.
10. Authors of articles and review articles (but not book reviews) receive twenty-five free offprints. Additional copies may be bought if ordered at proof stage.
11. Contributors of accepted articles will be asked to assign their copyright, on certain conditions, to Cambridge University Press, to help protect their material, particularly in the USA.
