

Call for Submissions:
Special Issue of *Dance Research Journal
Guest Editor: Jacqueline Shea Murphy

INDIGENOUS DANCE TODAY: Motion, Connection, Relation

We invite submissions for a special issue of Dance Research Journal addressing current Indigenous dance practices. Discussions of a diverse array of Indigenous dance welcome, including those that attend to Native American, First Nations or other Indigenous dance groups, communities, companies, choreographies, styles, events, acts, social, presentational, and ceremonial practices, creative processes, and protocol. Particular interest in scholarship that addresses specific ways that Indigenous dancing today accesses knowledge and ways of knowing muted through colonizing histories; asserts land right and other inherited privileges specific to dancers' Nations, communities, and families; advocates positive social and environmental change; strengthens connections and relations within communities as well as across oceans, continents and spiritual realms. How does Indigenous dance activate and assert dancing as a site of history, a form of consciousness and understanding, a practice of doing and knowing Indigenous identities, and a site for engaging with Indigenous political, cultural and spiritual vitality?

Final deadline for submissions: January 1, 2015

Approximate length: 6,000 words (not including notes & bibliography)

Inquiries and submissions to: Jacqueline Shea Murphy (jshea@ucr.edu)

Engaging Bodies

The Politics and Poetics of Corporeality

Ann Cooper Albright

"An essential offering from the eminent contemporary theorist of corporeality and feminist studies. Ann Cooper Albright's practice-infused, phenomenologically derived writings explore the largest issues in dance studies today—critical race, disability, gender, philosophy, historiography, activism, and body image. Surprising and compelling at every turn, this outstanding collection confirms the capacities of bodies in motion to matter."

—Thomas F. DeFrantz, author of Dancing Revelations

Through the Eyes of a Dancer

Selected Writings

Wendy Perron

"I've never read a collection like Perron's engrossing Through the Eyes of a Dancer. She reviews and ponders four decades of developments and enduring values—both in dance and in the life of her performing-choreographing-writing self. Currently editor in chief of Dance Magazine, Perron displays an uncanny ability both to view art works from a distance and to burrow into their hearts."

—Deborah Jowitt, author of Jerome Robbins

$29.95 cloth / ebook available

The Place of Dance

A Somatic Guide to Dancing and Dance Making

Andrea Olsen, with Caryn McHose

"The Place of Dance is a timely reminder of how available, delicious and essential movement is, for all of us. Andrea Olsen prompts us to go ahead, imagine, and do: sink to the floor; lean back and look at the ceiling, and enjoy the unexpected choreographic moment. This book is for our dancing selves, our collaborative selves, our entrepreneurial selves, and it offers strategies and inspiration to find—and keep—dancing in our lives."

—Bebe Miller, choreographer and artistic director, Bebe Miller Company

$29.95 paper / ebook available

MARTHA GRAHAM

Gender and the Haunting
of a Dance Pioneer

Victoria Thoms

Victoria Thoms explores the cult of Graham and her dancing through a feminist lens that exposes the gendered meaning behind much of her work. In her analysis, she synthesizes a diverse archive of material on Graham from films, photographs, memoir, and critique.

DANCE ON ITS OWN TERMS

Histories and Methodologies

Edited by MELANIE BALES and KAREN ELIOT

"An unquestionably lively book of dance essays, made more stimulating by the variety of new voices on the subject. Especially welcome is the central place given to dance itself, bravely situated here within a framework of current theory."

—Stephanie Jordan, Research Professor in Dance,
University of Roehampton

2013      464 pp., 35 line drawings, 42 halftones
Hardcover $99.00 Paperback $39.95

FRENCH MOVES

The Cultural Politics of le hip hop

FELICIA MCCARRAN

"Felicia McCarran has succeeded brilliantly in taking dance out of its disciplinary confines, showing how vital a consideration of hip-hop is to any attempt to understand the dynamics of race and identity in contemporary France; the progress of the globalization of culture; the transformational power of moving bodies; and the mutually constitutive relation between bodies and technologies. McCarran makes it impossible for semiotics or cultural theory to remain indifferent to dance."

—Carrie Noland, author of Agency and Embodiment: Performing Gestures/Producing Culture

(Oxford Studies in Dance Theory)
2013      240 pp., 20 photographs
Hardcover $99.00 Paperback $29.95

BODY KNOWLEDGE

Performance, Intermediality, and American Entertainment at the Turn of the Twentieth Century

MARY SIMONSON

"Beautifully researched, rich with compellingly told stories, Body Knowledge offers very smart analyses of how representations and performances of embodiment leap media and genre barriers. A must-read for scholars of musical embodiment."

—Suzanne G. Cusick, New York University

2013      304 pp., 8 music examples and 21 photographs
Hardcover $99.00 Paperback $29.95

BALANCHINE & THE LOST MUSE

Revolution & the Making of a Choreographer

ELIZABETH KENDALL

"[H]er history of ballet in the early post-Revolutionary period is very valuable, as Balanchine told us little about his youth."

—The New Yorker

2013      304 pp., 30 halftones
Hardcover $35.00

KINESTHETIC CITY

Dance and Movement in Chinese Urban Spaces

SANSAN KWAN

"Kwan writes with a keen sensitivity to the micro-level kinesthetic forces of bodies in motion and the macro-level historical forces that shape place. The result is a series of nuanced and thoughtful readings of the politics of movement, location, and identity."

—Anthen Kraut, Associate Professor, Department of Dance, University of California, Riverside

2013      224 pp., 49 photographs
