History

Books and Journals from Cambridge University Press

History is the largest single subject area for the Press. It is a programme with both depth and breadth, ranging in subject matter from late antiquity to the present day, international in scope and embracing new approaches.

Our publishing includes major reference series, textbooks and monographs, as well as a collection of distinguished journals affiliated to the world’s leading scholarly societies.

Together, they reflect the diversity of the discipline and offer an unmatched resource for today’s historians.

The British Journal for the History of Science (BJHS) is the journal of the British Society for the History of Science, the major national body for this subject in Britain. One of the premier journals in the field, it publishes high quality papers and review articles in all aspects of the history of science. There are four issues per year comprising an annual volume of around 750 pages. BJHS also includes an extensive book review section. Occasional thematic issues are published on important problems or topics.

Contributors are welcome. They should be sent to the Editorial Assistant, Mrs P Hatton, email bjhsassistant@btinternet.com. They are considered on the understanding that they are unpublished and are not on offer to another journal. Contributions should be submitted in electronic form as an email attachment, preferably in MS Word format.

For instructions on how to submit a paper to BJHS, visit http://www.bshs.org.uk/publications/bjhs and click on “Instructions for contributors”. Please be sure to follow all instructions carefully as failure to do so may impair the Editor’s and Publisher’s ability to treat the submission in a timely fashion. Informal editorial enquiries (not submissions) may be sent to the Editor, Professor Charlotte Sleigh, School of History, Rutherford College, University of Kent, Canterbury, CT2 7NX, UK, email C.L.Sleigh@kent.ac.uk. The Editor, Editorial Board and Council of the Society reserve the right to reject any paper submitted for publication.

For all articles published, it is the author’s responsibility to secure any necessary permission for publication. Single copies of articles may be made for research or private study. Permission to make multiple copies must be obtained from the Society. Reproduction of material is open to all persons approved by the Council of the Society and elected at an Extraordinary General Meeting. Details of the annual subscription can be found on our website www.bshs.org.uk or from the Executive Secretary at the address below. There is an Introductory offer for the first year.

BJHS publications: BJHS Monograph Series is designed to allow the publication of monographic studies in the history of science quickly and cheaply. Monographs 1–13 are available in digital form and can be downloaded for free via the BSHS website. Monographs 12–14 are available via a print-on-demand service.

Recent titles are as follows:
