The Greek Cosmologists

Volume 1: The Formation of the Atomic Theory and its Earliest Critics

DAVID FURLEY

This book describes the controversy between those who looked for an explanation of the world in its origin and its material components, and those who argued that form and structure were primary and more powerful than matter. The first volume takes the story from its beginnings in Ionian philosophy as far as the formation of the Atomic Theory. The second will describe the cosmology of Plato and Aristotle, the attempt by Epicurean opponents to revive Atomism, and later developments of the debate in classical philosophy.

Hegel

Religion, Economics, and the Politics of Spirit, 1770-1807

LAURENCE DICKEY

This study of Hegel's intellectual development up to the writing of The Phenomenology of Spirit argues that his thought is best approached contextually, in terms of the liberalisation of German Protestantism in the eighteenth century and presents an authoritative account of the genesis of Hegel's distinctive view about the organisation of society.

An Essay on African Philosophical Thought

The Akan Conceptual Scheme

KWAME GYEKYE

A sustained and sensitive attempt to define a genuinely African philosophy in relation to African cultural life, An Essay on African Philosophical Thought is based on a detailed study of the Akan conceptual scheme and offers Akan interpretations of ontology, philosophical psychology, theology and ethics.

The Structure of Emotions

Investigations in Cognitive Philosophy

ROBERT M. GORDON

Using techniques of philosophical analysis, Robert Gordon inquires into the nature of the various emotions, their systematic relationships to one another and to other mental states, such as beliefs, desires and wishes. He argues that emotion concepts ought to have a more important role in the social and behavioural sciences than they now enjoy.

Causation: A Realist Approach

Michael Tooley

Traditional empiricist accounts of causation and of the laws of nature have been reductionist. It is argued here, however, that reductionist accounts are vulnerable to decisive objections, and thus it is time for empiricists to break with that tradition.

The Metaphysics of Quantum Theory

Henry Krips

The interplay between non-relativistic quantum theory and metaphysics has generated radically opposed interpretations of quantum theory. This book outlines the contours of these debates and presents an interpretation of quantum theory which resolves most of the paradoxes.

Parts

A Study in Ontology

Peter Simons

The relationship of part to whole is one of the most fundamental there is, yet until now there has been no full-length study of this concept. This book shows that mereology, the formal theory of part and whole, is essential to ontology.

Emerson's Epistemology

The Argument of Essays

DAVID VAN LEER

In this, the first book to treat Emerson as a serious philosopher, Dr Van Leer argues that Emerson's essays can be read quite seriously in terms of their philosophical content, and that such readings show the works to be far more carefully structured than has usually been assumed.

The Limits of Concept Formation in Natural Science

A Logical Introduction to the Historical Sciences

HEINRICH RICKERT

Edited and translated by GUY OAKES

Heinrich Rickert (1863-1936) was one of Germany's leading neo-Kantian philosophers. Here his most important work, presenting his systematic theory of knowledge and philosophy of science and dealing particularly with historical knowledge and the problem of demarcating the natural from the human sciences, is translated into English for the first time.

Information for Authors

Prospective authors should send their contributions, typed and double-spaced on quarto or A4 paper, to the Editor, Mr Renford Bambrough, Royal Institute of Philosophy, 14 Gordon Square, London WC1H 0AG. They should retain a second copy for the purpose of checking proofs. Articles submitted should conform to Hart's Rules for Compositors ana Readers (Oxford University Press, 1967). The Editor may alter manuscripts wherever necessary to make them conform to the stylistic and bibliographical conventions of the journal. Single quotation marks should be used except where there is a quotation within another. The titles of books and journals should be underlined (i.e. to be printed in italics), as should foreign words. Titles of articles should be in single quotation marks.

Notes and references will be printed as footnotes and should be typed (double-spacing) on a separate sheet, numbered consecutively. They should be referred to in the text by superscripts. Citations should be as follows:

The return of contributions cannot be guaranteed unless they are accompanied by stamps, or in the case of contributions from abroad, by international coupons, to cover postage. A self-addressed envelope should also be enclosed.

Only corrections of printer's errors can be allowed in proofs. Authors are therefore asked to send any alterations or additions to Mr Bambrough as soon as possible after receiving his letter of acceptance.

Authors of articles, discussion papers and review articles will receive twenty-five offprints free of charge. Additional offprints can be ordered when proofs are returned by arrangement with the Institute.

Books for review should be sent to the Editor at the Institute and not to Cambridge University Press. Publishers are asked to note that non-philosophical works are not reviewed in Philosophy.

Authors' corrected proofs should be sent to Mr Bambrough at St John's College, Cambridge. All other correspondence should be addressed to the Institute and not to any address in Cambridge.
