"There is no other book which includes laryngology and otology with such success. . . . The present edition should surpass the previous issues in popularity."—British Medical Journal.

"The work is an important one, and gives an admirably clear and concise account of diseases of the speciality. . . . The numerous excellent illustrations add to the value of the book."—The Lancet.

"The whole work maintains a high standard, and there is little but praise for its clearness and comprehensiveness. . . . The book is perhaps the best of modern text-books dealing with the whole of oto-rhino-laryngology, and is one which experts as well as students will find most useful."—Jour. of Laryngology and Otology.

A Stronghold

IN THE TREATMENT of the Pneumonias, in order to lessen toxæmia and to reinforce the patient's power of resistance, the use of Antiphlogistine Dressing serves as an appropriate adjunct.

Its symptomatic effects are manifested by

- Early relief from pain
- Improved heart action
- Relief of dyspnœa
- General soothing of the patient with induction of sleep.

Antiphlogistine Brand Dressing often proves a stronghold when other methods fail.

The
“MILLETT” ATOMISER
 BRITISH MADE

In introducing our product we suggested that—“the advantages of the Millett Atomiser are so evident, so obviously necessary that one wonders why they have not been adopted before.”

Sales have proved that we were correct. The Millett Atomiser does fulfil a demand.

Millett Atomisers require only one hand for use, the contents will not spill in any position.

The fluid is carried in a liberal glass bulb, and any type of liquid is perfectly atomised. All metal parts are chromium plated, and only the best rubber and glass is used. You cannot obtain a better atomiser at any price.

Model “N” for throat and nose use. Easily sterilised by removing the glass vessel from the base.

Model “U” for general and nasal use.

It is only necessary to put the exact dose into the atomiser.
