America's Humor

From Poor Richard to Doonesbury
Walter Blair and Hamlin Hill

This book traces the development of American humour from its origins in Europe to its most recent manifestations in the cinema, on the stage, and in literature. The authors demonstrate that an investigation of American literature best documents the essential attitudes, characters, and situations that have shaped the nation's humour. This is not a book of jokes, but an engaging and intelligent survey of major themes in the history of America's comic identity. Illustrated £9.95

The Remembered Gate : Origins of American Feminism

The Woman and the City 1800 -1860
Barbara J. Berg

In this study of the impact of urbanization upon the development of feminism in nineteenth-century America, the author contends that feminism was a product of industrialization and the new social milieu created in the emerging cities in the decades preceding the Civil War. The first section of the study evaluates the position of the colonial woman and offers an explanation for the decline in her status during this period. The second section examines the genesis and development of feminist thought. Illustrated £8 Urban Life in America

The Slum and the Ghetto

Neighborhood Deterioration and Middle-Class Reform,
Chicago 1880 -1930
Thomas Lee Philpott

The Chicago of the 1880s, with its badly-housed immigrant poor in their decaying neighbourhoods, changed radically over the following fifty years. Thomas Lee Philpott believes that by looking at the transformation of the condition of Chicago's poor we can discover why the other great slum-dwelling portion of American society—the black minority—is still consigned to ghettos which have the same problems faced by Chicago in the 1880s. Illustrated £9.50 Urban Life in America

Race Relations in the Urban South 1865 -1890

Howard N. Rabinowitz

This comparative study of race relations in the postbellum urban South continues where Richard C. Wade's Slavery in the Cities, the South 1820-1860 (1964, £2.75) leaves off. Through a close examination of five southern cities, the author illuminates a largely undocumented area of Southern urban experience. The lives of Southern urban blacks during the transition from slavery to freedom are recreated, detailing their imprint on urban society and the impact that city life had on them. £9.75 Urban Life in America

BLACK AMERICAN WRITERS: Bibliographical Essays

Volume 1: The Beginnings Through the Harlem Renaissance

Volume 2: Richard Wright; Ralph Ellison; James Baldwin and Amiri Baraka (LeRoi Jones)

Edited by Thomas Inge, Maurice Duke and Jackson R. Bryer

This two-volume work is both the most convenient and the most comprehensive source of bibliographical and critical information about Black American writing. Tracing its development from the beginnings to the present successes of major contemporary literary figures, these volumes not only identify but also assess the available bibliographies, editions, manuscripts, letters, autobiographies and biographies of America's black writers. The contributions and opinions of a great many critics have also been included.

Black American Writers is an indispensable addition to any library which caters for those interested in understanding the important role that black writers have played, and increasingly play, in the development of the American literary experience.

£12.00 per volume/£20.00 per set, Vol 1 0 333 25892 4, Vol 2 0 333 25893 2

Growing Up in a Small Missouri Town, 1905–1921

Loren Reid. In this vividly detailed reminiscence of life sixty years ago in Gilman City, Missouri, Reid has created a document that will fascinate anyone interested in the small American town, from a sociological, historical, or purely nostalgic perspective. By preserving his memories of Gilman City at its height, Reid has helped recall a vanished way of life. ISBN 0-8262-0247-0 October 320 pages Illustrated $12.95

Bureaucratic Politics: Executive Reorganization During the Truman Administration

William E. Pemberton. In this first comprehensive history of Truman's reorganization program for the federal government's executive branch, Pemberton uses extensive manuscript research to show that Truman was the most committed and successful president in terms of altering the executive bureaucracy. ISBN 0-8262-0244-6 March 256 pages $21.00

Harry S. Truman Versus the Medical Lobby The Genesis of Medicare

Monte M. Poen. This book examines Truman's quest for national health insurance in the light of the ongoing debate on the subject in this century. It reveals why Truman was the first president to advocate government-financed health care and why he repeatedly took the idea to Congress despite insurmountable political obstacles.

ISBN 0-8262-0257-8 January 208 pages $18.50

Mark Twain's Last Years as a Writer

William R. Macnaughton. Mark Twain's career has traditionally been described as ending in failure. In this balanced evaluation of Twain's late writings, Macnaughton seeks to correct the harsh judgments of earlier scholars, emphasizing Twain's relative and total success as seen in superb individual sections of unfinished manuscripts and complete, skillfully written stories and essays. ## NOTES FOR CONTRIBUTORS

1. All contributions and editorial correspondence should be sent to: The Editor, Journal of American Studies, School of English and American Studies, University of East Anglia, Norwich NR4 7TJ, England.
2. Articles should generally contain about 5,000 words. Longer or shorter articles, or articles in two or more parts, may be accepted by arrangement with the Editors.
3. Submission of an article is taken to imply that it has not previously been published, and is not being considered for publication elsewhere.
4. Contributions should be clearly typed in double spacing (including footnotes), preferably on A4 paper, with a wide left-hand margin. Diagrams, maps and illustrations may be included.
5. Spelling may conform either to British or American usage, providing it is consistent throughout.
6. Footnotes should be used sparingly: in general, to give sources of direct quotations, references to main authorities on disputable questions, and evidence relied on for a new or unusual conclusion. They should be numbered consecutively, and may most conveniently be placed, in double spacing, at the end of the article.
7. For guidance on matters of style, contributors should refer either to the MLA Style Sheet (2nd ed.), or to the Journal of American Studies Style Notes, copies of which may be obtained from the Editors.
8. Contributors should keep one copy of the typescript for correcting proofs.
9. Notes intended for the Editors or printer should be on a separate sheet.
10. First proofs may be read and corrected by contributors provided that they can give the Editor an address through which they can be reached without delay and can guarantee to return the corrected proofs to the Editor, by airmail where necessary, within three days of receiving them.
11. Corrections should be kept to an absolute minimum. They should be confined to errors of the typist or printer unless the Editor authorizes otherwise.
12. Contributors of articles and review articles receive 25 free offprints. Extra copies may be ordered according to a scale of charges.
13. Contributors need not be members of the British Association for American Studies. Unsolicited typescripts can only be returned to overseas contributors who send International Reply Coupons (not postage stamps).
14. Contributors of accepted articles will be asked to assign their copyrights, on certain conditions, to Cambridge University Press, to help protect their material, particularly in the USA.
