AIMS

"Institutions are the stuff of social and economic life. Many influential organizations, including the World Bank, have recognized the importance of institutional change in economic development. The Nobel Prize has been awarded to Ronald Coase, Douglass North, Gary Becker and Simon Kuznets for their pioneering work in institutional economics." (The New York Times, 2001)

The Journal of Institutional Economics is devoted to the study of the nature, role and evolution of institutions in the economy, including in economics, business studies, sociology, politics, geography, anthropology and philosophy. The Journal of Institutional Economics aims to provide authors with an expert verdict on their articles within 90 days of submission.
