General Editor: BRIAN HOOK

Advisory Editors: CHENG TE-K'UN,
JEROME A. COHEN, HERBERT FRANKE,
DWIGHT H. PERKINS, DENIS TWITCHETT,
FREDERIC WAKEMAN JR., WANG GUNGWU,
DICK WILSON

This Encyclopedia provides, in one volume, a compendium of China for every kind of enquiry, whether historical or contemporary, cultural or political, economic or social. It is a high-level reference work, providing up-to-date information on all aspects of China's geography, natural resources, economy, communications, growth planning and political structures, and covering the history and culture of traditional Chinese civilisation in all its variety.

The Editors have ensured that this is a reliable, authoritative and objective text. The point of view is neither pro- nor anti-communist, but the fierce ideological disputes that have shaken China are fairly reported. Present-day China is treated with the same scholarly objectivity as the traditional order of society.

Why has Japan 'Succeeded'?

Western Technology and the Japanese Ethos

MICHIO MORISHIMA

'... stands out from the rest not only because of Professor Morishima's exceptional ability as an economist and his intimate native knowledge of Japan; but for the remarkable ambition to do for Japanese economic history what R. H. Tawney did for England... shows clearly that the distinctive features of Japanese society are not only linked very closely with her success, but have been efficient in achieving it.'

Caste Conflict and Elite Formation

The Rise of the Karāva Elite in Sri Lanka, 1500-1931

MICHAEL ROBERTS

This book emphasises the significance of the patterns of caste discrimination and caste interaction in Sri Lankan politics, and reveals how these patterns were central to the incentives and opportunities which contributed to the remarkable successes in business enterprise and the acquisition of professional skills by Karāva families.

Dry Grain Farming Families

Hausaland (Nigeria) and Karnataka (India) Compared

POLLY HILL

The prevailing orthodoxy in development studies maintains that cultivators in any particular community are likely to have similar economic responses, and that all rural poverty in tropical regions has similar causes and can be alleviated by similar means. Dr Hill's meticulous fieldwork leads her to challenge these views. Her detailed comparative study points to the need for a proper categorisation of the main types of agrarian system in the tropical world, and will interest economists as well as anthropologists.
