How does EU law affect Member State corporate tax systems and the cross-border activities of companies? This unique study traces the historical development of EU corporate tax law and provides an in-depth analysis of a number of issues affecting companies, groups of companies and permanent establishments. Existing legislation, soft law and the case law of the Court of Justice are examined. The proposed CCCTB Directive and its potential application through enhanced cooperation are also considered. In addition to the tax issues pertaining to direct investment, the author examines the taxation of passive investment income, corporate reorganisations, exit taxes and the restrictive effect of domestic anti-abuse regimes. By doing so, the convergences and divergences arising from the interplay of EU corporate tax law and international tax law, especially the OECD Model, are uncovered and highlighted.

CHRISTIANA HJI PANAYI is a senior lecturer in tax law at the Centre for Commercial Law Studies, Queen Mary, University of London, where she teaches EU tax law and international tax law. She is also a research fellow at the Institute for Fiscal Studies and a visiting professor at University of Paris IV, Paris-Sorbonne. She has published extensively in the area of EU and international tax law, and speaks regularly at tax conferences. She is also a solicitor of England and Wales and an advocate of the Cyprus Supreme Court.
Tax law is a growing area of interest, as it is included as a subdivision in many areas of study and is a key consideration in business needs throughout the world. Books in this series will expose the theoretical underpinning behind the law to shed light on the taxation systems, so that the questions to be asked when addressing an issue become clear. These academic books, written by leading scholars, will be a central port of call for information on tax law. The content will be illustrated by case law and legislation.

The books will be of interest for those studying law, business, economics, accounting and finance courses.
