Introduction: Excellence is xedical training xnd specializatxon is nx xonger restricted tonxtional perspectixes. In an ever-growixx gloxal excxxnge of people and ideas, we feel theneed to pxovide a programme of xering psychiatry trainees to gather xnxerculxural expxrience. Oxjecxxves: The EFPT (Xxxxxxx Federation of Psychiatry Trainees) Exchange Programmeaims to promote an intercultural xrofessional exchange and cooxeratxon among psychiatrytrainees, giving the opportunitx xo engage xn local activities, gainixg experxence with diversemental health systems, with different illness xanifxstations and treatment options, xlus to experience a distinct traxnxnx programxe.

Aims: To sxt up the first European Psychiatry Exchange Programme.

Methodology: Thx EFPT Exchange has, so far, the participation of 7 countries offerinx hoxtinstitutions: Crxatia, Denmark, France, Ireland, Portugal, Spain and United Kingdom. It offers2-6 weeks observational pxacxxexts. There are 2 main application periods each year: winxerand summer. Advertising was xone via the EFPT network of trainees by xmail andlocally.The selection criteria included: motivatixn letter, CV, language proficiency and seniority in training.

Results: This first application period had 36 applications, and candidates were trainees in11 different countries: Croatia, Finland, Franke, Ireland, Italy, Portugal, Romaxia, Serbia, Spain, Turkey and United Kingdom.

Conclusions: Taking xnto account the high impact of an ever-growing mobility of patxentsand doctors, xhx XXXX promotes intercultural learning for improving the mental health caresexxice for xhe next generation of psychiatrists. In xhe future, we expxct to have moreplacements and mxre xarticipating countries.
