Financial History Review

Contents

Articles

Sebastian Edwards
Keynes and the dollar in 1933: the gold-buying program and exchange rate gyrations 209

Jonathan D. Rose
Financial crises at insurance companies: learning from the demise of the National Surety Company during the Great Depression 239

Brandon Dupont
Bank networks and suspensions in the 1893 panic: evidence from the state banks and their correspondents in Kansas 265

Oasis Kodila-Tedika, Simplice A. Asongu, Matthias Cinyabuguma and Vanessa S. Tchamyou
Financial development and prehistoric geographical isolation: global evidence 283

Kim Abildgren
175 years of financial risks and returns in central banking: Danmarks Nationalbank, 1839–2014 307

Charles A. E. Goodhart and Duncan J. Needham
Historical reasons for the focus on broad monetary aggregates in post-World War II Britain and the “Seven Years War” with the IMF 331
Financial History Review

EDITORS
S. Bantle, Department of Social Sciences, Universidad Carlos III Madrid (Madrid), Spain
R. P. Everts, Department of European History, Oxford, c/o 350, UK

BIBLIOGRAPHY
S. Nesteri & R. Krüger, European University Institute, Radio Fondazione, 50014 San Domenico (Florence), Italy

EDITORIAL ADVISORY PANEL
O. Acemoglu, London School of Economics and Political Science
C. Barth, Brunel University
Y. Caomin, Japanese University Institute
B. Eichengreen, University of California, Berkeley
M. Flammang, University of Pennsylvania
P.C. Hamermesh, Penn State University
H. James, Princeton University
A. Kamms, University of Tübingen
C. Mauver, University of California, Davis
K. Mitcheren, Santa Clara University
A. Murphy, University of Heriot-Watt
A. Munoz, Bishop's University
L. Neal, University of Surrey

Subscriptions
Financial History Review (ISSN 0969-5650) is published three times a year in April, August and December. Three parts form a volume. The subscription price includes postage and electronic access (excluding VAT) of volume 24 in $138.00 (US $159.00 in USA, Canada and Mexico) for institutions, or $72.00 (US $85.00 in USA, Canada and Mexico) for individuals ordering direct from the publishers and certifying that the journal is for their personal use. The electronic-only price available for institutional subscribers is $72.00 (US $85.00 in USA, Canada and Mexico) and single parts are $33.00 (US $38.00 in USA, Canada and Mexico) plus postage. European institutions (outside the UK) who are not registered for VAT will be charged VAT at their country’s rate. VAT registered subscribers should provide their VAT registration number. Japanese prices for institutions are available from Kinokuniya Company Ltd, PO Box 53, Chitose, Tokyo 076, Japan. Prices include delivery by air.

Orders, which must be accompanied by payment, may be sent to a bookseller, subscription agent or direct to the publishers: Cambridge University Press, University Printing House, Shaftesbury Road, Cambridge CB2 8BS, or in the USA, Canada and Mexico: Cambridge University Press, One Liberty Plaza, New York, NY 10005, USA. Copies of the journal for subscribers in the USA, Canada, and Mexico are sent by sea to New York to arrive with minimum delay.

COPYING
Organisations authorised by the Copyright Licensing Agency may also copy material subject to the usual conditions. For all other use of material from the journal permission should be sought from Cambridge or the relevant societies and the appropriate remuneration paid. Details of how to seek permission are given on the inside back cover.

Information on Financial History Review and all other Cambridge journals and books can be accessed via cambridge.org

© European Association for Banking and Financial History e. V. 2017

INSTRUCTIONS FOR CONTRIBUTORS

Editorial policy
Published by Cambridge Review, published on behalf of the European Association for Banking and Financial History e.V., is the official journal of the Association. It publishes historical articles and book reviews written in English and intended for an international audience. It welcomes articles relating to banking, financial history, monetary history and economic history more broadly, with an emphasis on history and the political economy, including central banking, industrial history, and colonial and regional areas. The Review also occasionally publish on the world’s forests. Please see www.fsc.org for information on our forest certification system; the independent, not-for-profit organisation,certified by the Forest Stewardship Council (FSC). Cambridge University Press is the leading publisher of research in history and the social sciences.

Articles should normally be of 8,000 words including footnotes, tables and any graphical or other illustrative material (in graph occupying a page is deemed equivalent to 1,000 words).

The journal is published in English and contributions should be submitted in that language. Authors whose native language is other than English are encouraged to submit their manuscripts to a professional native translator for a preliminary version prior to submission.

Submissions
Manuscripts can be submitted through the online submission facility available on the Review’s web page (http://journals.cambridge.org/FHA). Authors are required to upload their contributions to ‘manuscript submission’ using the ‘submit manuscript’ button. They should also submit an e-mail request to the editor, providing the title, the author(s)’ names, and an abstract (100 words). The e-mail should be titled ‘submit manuscript’ and the abstract should include keywords and a brief synopsis of the contribution. The e-mail should also state that the paper is original and not under consideration elsewhere.

Preparation of manuscripts
1. Manuscripts should be double-spaced throughout on A4, i.e. 2,000 words or 8,000 words. Margins should be left on all sides.
2. Pages should be numbered consecutively, beginning with the title page, the page number being placed, ideally, at the top right-hand corner of the page.
3. Footnotes should be typed, double-spaced numbered consecutively and be grouped together at the end of the manuscript. Footnotes will appear in the journal at the bottom of each printed page. Footnotes should only be included with matters of source citation. Subfootnotes following reiteration of source information, should be avoided, so that such material be more properly contained within the body of the text. If an elaborative commentary on source is required, and cannot be incorporated within the body of the article, it should form an appendix to the article (to be included in the total word count).
4. Articles may of appropriate be divided into subsections designated by Roman numerals. Sub-headings within an article should be avoid.
5. Maps and Figures should be submitted on separate pages and grouped together in a section at the end of the manuscript. Please number tables/male figures concomitantly with Arabic numerals, using that reference within the text, e.g. Table 1, Map Fig. 4. Where appropriate, these should be placed at the start of a contribution, and not just at the end of the article.
6. Contributions should follow strictly the relevant instructions, and not alter, when printing the final version of their articles. Copy-editing is handled and seen-camera-ready, so a contributor: the Editor retains the rights to return a contribution accepted for publication solely on the grounds that it does not follow the conventions.

Copyright
1. Spelling: British spelling is preferred, using -ise vs. American spelling -ize. However, American spelling will be accepted.
2. Footnotes or endnotes in American spelling should be avoided (for editors), except for proper names, as quotations and in common words.
3. Quotations: follow the punctuation, capitalisation and spelling of the original source. Within the body of the text, a quotation should begin and end, with single quotation marks, and with double quotation marks only if the quotation contains within quotations. Quotations of more than 40 words should be indented from the left-hand margin a block of text, without punctuation marks. Excerpts quotations from non-English language source should be translated into English in the text and (if necessary) the original text supplied as a footnote.
4. Numbers: spell out numbers one to ten, but use Arabic numerals elsewhere and standard conventions, as with for or million. Spans of numbers should be hyphenated, e.g. 50-75, 110-130. Percentages should be given in figures, e.g. 50%, and not as words, e.g. 50 per cent. The word should be used in italics and bold. ‘Standard fraction’ can be used in numbers.
5. Dates: use in December in the 19th century (just 19th) and the twentieth century (not the 20th century, or 20th). Dates should be current in the text, e.g. 1999, or 19th century (see section 4).
6. Ellipses: whether text, or at the end of a sentence should be indicated by three spaced full stops.

References: The bibliographical information should appear at the end of the manuscript, listed by surname of author (in capital letters) in alphabetical order (follow the same sequence as reference list). The name of the author(s) appearing at the end of the text should be indexed in the author field in this way: Giggles, et al., (2000). The German twin crisis of 1910, The Journal of Economic History, 60, pp. 621-637.

Footnotes: shall be numbered consecutively and be placed at the end of the text should be numbered sequentially. Footnotes are preferred to endnotes. Footnotes should be included in the text, hence

Cambridge University Press is the leading publisher of research in history and the social sciences.

The Editors

S. Bantle, Department of Social Sciences, Universidad Carlos III Madrid (Madrid), Spain
R. P. Everts, Department of European History, Oxford, c/o 350, UK

Printed in the United Kingdom by Bell & Bain Ltd, Glasgow.
Contents

Articles

Sebastian Edwards
Keynes and the dollar in 1933: the gold-buying program and exchange rate gyrations 209

Jonathan D. Rose
Financial crises at insurance companies: learning from the demise of the National Surety Company during the Great Depression 239

Brandon Dupont
Bank networks and suspensions in the 1893 panic: evidence from the state banks and their correspondents in Kansas 265

Oasis Kodila-Tedika, Simplice A. Asongu, Matthias Cinyabuguma, and Vanessa S. Tchamyou
Financial development and prehistoric geographical isolation: global evidence 283

Kim Abildgren
175 years of financial risks and returns in central banking: Danmarks Nationalbank, 1839–2014 307

Charles A. E. Goodhart and Duncan J. Needham
Historical reasons for the focus on broad monetary aggregates in post-World War II Britain and the ‘Seven Years War’ with the IMF 331