Behavioural and Cognitive Psychotherapy

Published for the British Association for Behavioural and Cognitive Psychotherapies (BABCP)

Editor
Paul M Salkovskis, University of Bath, UK

Behavioural and Cognitive Psychotherapy is an international multi-disciplinary journal aimed primarily at members of the helping and teaching professions. The journal features original research papers, covering both experimental and clinical work, that contribute to the theory, practice and evolution of cognitive and behaviour therapy. Under the guidance of an international editorial team, Behavioural and Cognitive Psychotherapy aims to reflect and influence the continuing changes in the concepts, methodology and techniques of behavioural and cognitive psychotherapy. A particular feature of the journal is its broad-ranging scope - both in terms of topics and types of study covered.

The Australian Journal of Rehabilitation Counselling

Guidelines for Authors

The Australian Journal of Rehabilitation Counselling (AJRC) is a peer-reviewed scientific publication in the multidisciplinary field of rehabilitation and disability. AJRC receives national and international submissions and topics include rehabilitation counselling, case management, rehabilitation education, rehabilitation administration, job placement, vocational assessment, psychosocial rehabilitation, independent living, transition planning, supported employment, industrial rehabilitation and disability management.

Only original scientific rehabilitation research and development papers (including pilot studies), selected reviews and special reports are accepted. AJRC welcomes submissions of graduate student research and submissions on new approaches and innovations in the field. AJRC does not publish letters to the editor or other submissions of a more journalistic style.

Guidelines for preparation and submission of manuscripts are given below:

1. Authors should prepare manuscripts according to the Manuscript Preparation section below.

2. Unless otherwise indicated in the cover letter, the first author will be responsible for communication with the editor and editorial revisions of manuscripts.

3. All manuscripts must include an abstract containing a maximum of 120 words typed on a separate page.

4. Manuscripts should not normally exceed 20 double-spaced A4 typed pages inclusive of abstract, text, references, appendices, tables, and figures. However, longer manuscripts may be submitted with specific approval from the Editor, Elias Mpiofa.

5. Manuscripts accepted for publication are available directly from this site. To facilitate rapid reviewing, communications for peer review will be electronic and authors will need to supply a current e-mail address when registering to use the system.

6. Articles are refereed. Papers submitted to the journal must not previously have been published nor submitted for publication to any other journal.

7. Manuscripts may be submitted via the online submission and tracking site, http://mc.manuscriptcentral.com/jrc. Full instructions for electronic submission are available directly from this site.
