A History of Private Life
Philippe Aries
and Georges Duby, General Editors
Volume I: From Pagan Rome to Byzantium
Edited by Paul Veyne
Translated by Arthur Goldhammer

“This engrossing volume attempts to show women and men of ancient times as they actually were—the houses they lived in, their work and sex lives, customs and how the state and religion affected their outlook. . . . Marvelously illustrated. . . . Reading this book is like stepping back into the past.”
—Publishers Weekly

Unfree Labor
American Slavery and Russian Serfdom
Peter Kolchin

“An original, perceptive, and significant book. Admirably proving the enormous value of comparative study, Kolchin’s analysis provides fresh insights into the nature of unfree labor in general and slavery and serfdom in particular.”
—Harold D. Woodman, Purdue University

Love as Passion
The Codification of Intimacy
Niklas Luhmann
Translated by Jeremy Gaines and Doris L. Jones

Luhmann takes us back to a time when passionate love took place exclusively outside marriage and traces the gradual development of a language and code of behavior that made love and intimacy the essential components of married life.

Beyond Suffrage
Women in the New Deal
Susan Ware

“A sensitive collective biography of twenty-eight women New Dealers and. . . a description of their tactical means of operation. . . All can unite in thanking Ware for opening a uniquely political chapter in women’s history and for revitalizing the historiography of the New Deal.”
—Journal of American History

Comparative Studies in Society and History is a forum for presentation and discussion of new research into problems of change and stability that recur in human societies through time or in the contemporary world. It sets up a working alliance between specialists in all branches of the social sciences and humanities. Debate and review articles bring the general reader in touch with current findings and issues.

NOTES FOR CONTRIBUTORS

Contributions may be descriptive, analytical or theoretical. Any article not in itself comparative may be accepted if it lends itself to comment that will place it in comparative perspective. Correspondence with the editors prior to the submission of articles will help to enable them to obtain such comment or a companion study. Emphasis in comparative studies may be either on similarities or, if these are significant enough and call for some recasting of generalizations, on differences. All contributions and editorial correspondence should be sent to the Editors, Comparative Studies in Society and History, Department of History, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Michigan 48109.

Two copies of each contribution, preferably accompanied by a stamped, addressed envelope, should be submitted. Both text and footnotes should be clearly typed with double spacing and wide margins; footnotes should appear on separate pages at the end of the article. Illustrations may be included by arrangement with the editors.
