The Sound of Leadership

Presidential Communication in the Modern Age

RODERICK P. HART

Based on an analysis of nearly 10,000 presidential speeches delivered between 1945 and 1982, this book is the first comprehensive examination of the ways in which Presidents Truman through Reagan have used the powers of communication to advance their political goals. This communication revolution has produced, Hart argues, a new form of governance, one in which public speech has come to be taken as political action.

News That Matters

Television and American Opinion

SHANTO IYENEGAR & DONALD R. KINDER

'News That Matters will become a classic. I expect all discussions of the effects of television upon voting, public opinion, and culture for the next decade will assume this work as a starting point . . . [The authors] develop some convincing, non-intuitive and brilliant findings about the ways in which television news affects our thinking about presidents and national problems.' Modernism and the Harlem Renaissance

HOUSTON A. BAKER Jr.

The movement of the 1920s known as the Harlem Renaissance has often been disparaged for its supposed failure to produce "modern" art on the order of British and Anglo-American works of the early 20th century. Eloquently disputing this view, Houston A. Baker Jr. elaborates a notion of distinctively Afro-American modernism.

NOTES FOR CONTRIBUTORS

- 1 All contributions and editorial correspondence should be sent to: The Editor, Journal of American Studies, School of English and American Studies, University of Sussex, Falmer, Brighton, BN1 9QN, England.
- 2 Articles should generally contain about 5,000 words. Longer or shorter articles, or articles in two or more parts, may be accepted by arrangement with the Editors.
- 3 Submission of an article is taken to imply that it has not previously been published, and is not being considered for publication elsewhere.
- 4 Contributions should be clearly typed in double spacing (including footnotes), preferably on A4 paper, with a wide left-hand margin. Diagrams, maps and illustrations may be included.
- 5 Spelling may conform either to British or American usage, providing it is consistent throughout.
- 6 Footnotes should be used sparingly: in general, to give sources of direct quotations, references to main authorities on disputable questions, and evidence relied on for a new or unusual conclusion. They should be numbered consecutively, and may most conveniently be placed, in double spacing, at the end of the article.
- 7 For guidance on matters of style, contributors should refer either to The Chicago Manual of Style (13th edition, 1982) or to the Journal of American Studies Style Notes, copies of which may be obtained from the Editors.
- 8 Contributors should keep one copy of the typescript for correcting proofs.
- 9 Notes intended for the Editors or Printer should be on a separate sheet.
- 10 First proofs may be read and corrected by contributors provided that they can give the Editor an address through which they can be reached without delay and can guarantee to return the corrected proofs to the Editor, by airmail where necessary, within three days of receiving them.
- 11 Corrections should be kept to an absolute minimum. They should be confined to errors of the typist or printer unless the Editor authorizes otherwise.
- 12 Contributors of articles and review essays receive 25 free offprints. Extra copies may be ordered according to a scale of charges.
- 13 Contributors need not be members of the British Association for American Studies. Unsolicited typescripts can only be returned to overseas contributors who send International Reply Coupons (not postage stamps).
- 14 Contributors of accepted articles will be asked to assign their copyright, on certain conditions, to Cambridge University Press, to help protect their material, particularly in the USA.

Books for review should be sent as follows: History, Political Science and Social Studies to Dr Michael Heale, Department of History, Furness College, University of Lancaster, Bailrigg, Lancaster LA1 4YG. Literature, the Fine Arts and other books to Professor Stephen Fender, School of English and American Studies, University of Sussex, Falmer, Brighton BN1 9QN.
