Owing to a printer’s error, Angela Troyer’s affiliation was listed as Department of Psychiatry at the University of Toronto in the original online version of the research note by Yusupov et al (2022). It should have been listed as the Department of Psychology. For consistency with the other affiliations, the author has opted not to list a department. This has been corrected accordingly in the revised online version of the article and will be corrected in the print version as well.
