Meyebela: My Bengali Girlhood
A memoir of Growing up Female in a Muslim World

by Taslima Nasrin

Cloth
ISBN: 1-58642-051-8
$26.00

"I believe Nasrin's Meyebela will, like Huckleberry Finn, become a classic of controversy, hated, loved, banned, made a school text, removed from the schools and fought over as long as people read. . . Meyebela's bravery, vividness and groundbreaking subject matter make it a remarkable achievement, and one that will live."
— The Nation

Bengali dissident TASILMA NASRIN has lived in Sweden since 1993 when a death fatwa placed by local clergy and a government arrest warrant caused her to flee her native country.

by Kishore Mahbubani

Cloth
ISBN: 1-58642-033-X

"Mahbubani's aim is to open the dialogue — particularly in the aftermath of September 11, when the frequently asked question, 'Why do they hate us' displayed as much ignorance as anguish. Mahbubani's eloquent ideas attempt to bridge that glaring gap in information and perspective."
— The Seattle Times

KISHORE MAHBUBANI, who has studied philosophy in Asia and North America, is in his second term as Singapore's ambassador to the U.N.

This new, proficiency-oriented introductory Japanese program emphasizes practical communication, the development of all four language skills, student interaction, and cultural awareness.

- Hiragana (in Chapters 1–3 of Nakama 1) and katakana (in Chapters 4–6 of Nakama 1) are introduced through unique mnemonic devices that help students learn the characters. Ninety kanji characters are introduced in Chapters 7–12 of Nakama 1, and approximately 290 kanji are presented in Chapters 1–10 of Nakama 2, with stroke-by-stroke writing techniques.
- A series of specially created manga precede each chapter dialogue and serve as visual advanced organizers.
- Chapter dialogues present a lively, continuous story line that illustrate typical daily events in Japanese life and provide a realistic context in which to learn vocabulary and grammatical structures.
- Exercises progress from directed practice to a wide range of open-ended communicative activities that emphasize pair and group work.
- The Houghton Mifflin Japanese Web Site (college.hmco.com) provides additional materials for students and instructors, including links to relevant Internet sites and to a text-specific site developed by the co-authors, Kazumi Hatasa and Yukiko Abe Hatasa.

NEW PAPERBACKS FROM THE ASSOCIATION FOR ASIAN STUDIES

WHO CAN COMPETE AGAINST THE WORLD? POWER PROTECTION AND BUDDHISM IN SHAN WORLDVIEW

by NICOLA TANNENBAUM

In response to continuing demand, AAS has reprinted Tannenbaum's popular ethnographic analysis of Shan religion in paperback. In this unique study, the author questions traditional characterizations of the nature and meaning of Buddhism in lowland mainland Southeast Asia. She explores the role that power-protection plays in structuring the Shan worldview—thereby producing an anthropological interpretation of Shan society and culture that is essential reading for students and scholars of Southeast Asian anthropology, religion, or culture.

MARKETING AND SOCIAL STRUCTURE IN RURAL CHINA

by G. WILLIAM SKINNER

The three-part study—originally published in three consecutive issues of the Journal of Asian Studies—has become a classic. The current edition represents the sixth time that this compilation has been reprinted by the Association for Asian Studies. The new edition has several advantages over earlier versions, however. Not only has it been composed anew, but also it incorporates the author's revisions, eliminates errors found in earlier editions, and features an attractive new design that makes the book more visually appealing and easier to use. This sixth edition was created to meet the needs of a new generation of Asian studies scholars and students, as well as to ensure that this classic study remains accessible for all those interested in the study of Asia.

The Goddesses' Henchmen

Gender in Indian Hero Worship

LINDSEY HARLAN

In this book, Lindsey Harlan explores the idea of the Rajput hero. She is particularly interested in the role played by gender in stories about heroes and in their worship. Ultimately she shows how heroic traditions encapsulate and express ideals of perfection and masculinity, defined most visibly against the backdrop of domesticity and femininity. More broadly she argues that heroes reflect ever-changing valuations of history, and serve as sources of inspiration for facing contemporary challenges (domestic, communal, national) and concerns about the future.

Development and Participation

JEAN DREZE and AMARTYA SEN

This book explores the role of public action in eliminating deprivation and expanding human freedoms in India. The analysis is based on a broad and integrated view of development, which focuses on well-being and freedom rather than the standard indicators of economic growth. The authors place human agency at the centerstage, and stress the complementary roles of different institutions (economic, social, and political) in enhancing effective freedoms.

Shivaji

Hindu King in Islamic India

James Laine traces the origin and development of the Shivaji legend, examining its meaning for those who have composed and read it, and painting a complex picture of the past four centuries of Hindu-Muslim relations.

Gandhi's Passion

The Life and Legacy of Mahatma Gandhi

STANLEY WOLPERT

"There have been many books about Gandhi, including those by the subject himself. What has always been needed is a full, literate account by someone closely familiar with India and Indian history who is also an accomplished writer and historian. This, we now have. Henceforth no one can claim knowledge of one of the greatest and most enigmatic figures of the last century who hasn't read it. And, I might add, no one will read it without interest and approval."

ORDINARY IMAGES

Stanley K. Abe

"In this important and timely book, Stanley Abe takes on one of the more formidable problems of premodern Chinese studies, the task of exploring the gap between two incommensurate bodies of data: text and image. His point of attack is that spot where the gap is the widest, that between elite religious writings and 'ordinary' images of devotion. . . . The images he has collected are outstanding and very important in their own right"—Stephen R. Bokenkamp, Indiana University
