Baby Boomer Health Dynamics
HOW ARE WE AGING?

Andrew V. Wister
Cloth 0802089577 $65.00
Paper 0802086357 $29.95
6x9 / 300 pp / 65 figures, 57 tables

Focusing on four health behaviors that have been proven to be major risk factors for disease: smoking, unhealthy exercise, obesity, and heavy drinking – Wister researches the long-term implications of several key lifestyle-health conundrums, most notably the paradoxical relationship in the concurrent trends over the last two decades of increased exercise levels and a significant rise in obesity.

AIMS & SCOPE

Under what conditions does “development” end? Under what conditions does “aging” begin? Can these conditions themselves be modified by intervention at the psychological, social, or biological levels? To what extent are patterns of development and aging attributable to biological factors? To psychological factors? How can the social and behavioral sciences contribute to the actualization of human potential throughout the entire life span? What are the implications of gerontological research for our understanding of the total development of human organism?

These are some of the broad questions with which The International Journal of Aging & Human Development is concerned. Emphasis is upon psychological and social studies of aging and the aged. However, this peer-refereed Journal also publishes research that introduces observations from other fields that illuminate the “human” side of gerontology, or utilizes gerontological observations to illuminate problems in other fields.

Nurses working together make a difference

Every minute there are 11 new HIV infections worldwide. More than half occur in young people under the age of 24. With more than a billion young people on earth between the ages of 15 and 24, the spread of HIV is a great concern to health care professionals.

As leaders in primary health care, nurses worldwide do make a difference by providing education and care to those most vulnerable.

La revue canadienne du vieillissement est une publication trimestrielle de l'Association canadienne de gérontologie, dotée d'un comité de lecture. Elle publie des articles qui portent sur le vieillissement dans les disciplines suivantes: biologie, politiques et pratiques sociales, psychologie, sciences de la santé et sciences sociales. La revue accepte les comptes rendus de recherches originales ainsi que les textes conceptuels ou théoriques qui font avancer de façon significative l'approche ou la vision de la gérontologie. Bien qu'elle soit une revue canadienne, les auteurs d'autres pays sont encouragés à y soumettre leurs travaux de recherche. Les demandes d'autorisation de texte concernant d'autres domaines de savoir sont également soumises à la revue.

Il est également possible de proposer à la revue des notes de recherche, des rapports de recherche, des études de cas, des études théoriques ou des analyses de données. Les auteurs d'articles non originaux doivent indiquer, le cas échéant, qu'ils sont prêts à fournir un support supplémentaire.

Les auteurs doivent éviter l'emploi de termes sexistes ou discriminatoires. Pour plus de renseignements, prière de consulter les directives de l'APA.

1. Présentation et acceptation des manuscrits
Les manuscrits peuvent être soumis électroniquement par courriel ou sous forme de copie papier envoyée par la poste. Tous les manuscrits doivent être adressés à la rédacteur en chef:
Mark W. Rosenberg
Department of Geography
Queen’s University Kingston, Ontario, Canada, K7L 3N6
rosenber@post.queensu.ca

2. Préparation des manuscrits
Les manuscrits doivent être accompagnés d’un titre de papier non excédant 40 lettres et espaces et de six (6) mots-clés pour indexation.

b. Title page. Two of the copies must include a title page containing name of author, highest degree achieved, name and address of institutional affiliation, e-mail, FAX and telephone numbers.

5. Copyright
Les auteurs dont les articles ou les résumés sont publiés doivent céder, à certaines conditions, leurs droits d’auteur à La Revue canadienne du vieillissement.
