Irish Journal of Psychological Medicine

The official journal of College of Psychiatrists of Ireland

Editor-in-Chief

Brendan Kelly, University College Dublin, Ireland

The Irish Journal of Psychological Medicine is the official research journal of the College of Psychiatry of Ireland. The journal's central objectives are: to disseminate the results of original scientific research to a national and international readership, to express the unique identity of Irish psychiatry, and to underscore the importance of cross-cultural differences in psychiatry.

The Irish Journal of Psychological Medicine publishes national and international research papers, editorials, review papers, case reports and book reviews.

Psychological Medicine

Editors

Kenneth S. Kendler, Virginia Institute for Psychiatric Behavioral Genetics, Virginia, USA

Robin M. Murray, Institute of Psychiatry, London, UK

Now in its fifth decade of publication, Psychological Medicine is a leading international journal in the fields of psychiatry, clinical psychology and the related basic sciences. There are twelve issues per year, each featuring original articles reporting key research being undertaken worldwide, together with shorter editorials by distinguished scholars and an important book review section. The journal's success is clearly demonstrated by a consistently high Impact Factor.
