CRITICA, Revista Hispanoamericana de Filosofía, offers a medium of expression to the philosophical tendencies that are at present marking out their paths in Latin America. At the same time, it attempts to open a line of communication between Latin American thought and that of other countries. In order that the fidelity of expression may be guaranteed without prejudice to mutual comprehension, all articles are published in the language in which they were written accompanied by a summary in another language or, in special cases, by a complete translation. Eventually a section of "Discussions" provides a place for dialogue about concrete topics.

CRITICA, Revista Hispanoamericana de Filosofía, appears in the months of January, May and September. Price of issue: $1.50 (U.S.C.). Annual subscription: $4.00 (U.S.C.). Annual patronage subscription: $10.00 (U.S.C.).
