
LSU Press

Presidential Transitions and Foreign Affairs

Frederick C. Mosher, W. David Clinton, and

Daniel G. Lang

Presidential Transitions and Foreign Affairs is the first book-length study of presidential transitions to focus on the crucial area of foreign affairs. Frederick C. Mosher, W. David Clinton, and Daniel G. Lang treat this relatively neglected subject comprehensively and with insight.

"Brilliant and readable."—Library Journal

Miller Center Series on the American Presidency

$25.00

Realist Thought from Weber to Kissinger

Michael Joseph Smith

In this important new study of realist thought, Michael Joseph Smith examines the major figures of the realist school, analyzing their contributions along three axes: as general theories of international relations, as guides to making foreign policy, and as possible solutions to the ethical dilemmas of statecraft.

Political Traditions in Foreign Policy Series

$30.00

Reason, Revelation, and the Foundations of Political Philosophy

James V. Schall

James V. Schall analyzes how the problem of modern political philosophy as "substitute metaphysics" has arisen and why it is a deviation from the essential line of disciplined political inquiry.

$27.50

A New Diversity in Contemporary Southern Rhetoric

Edited by Calvin M. Logue and Howard Dorgan

The eight original essays in this volume examine the diversity of public opinion on social and political issues that has emerged in the South in the years between 1954 and the present.

$32.50

Louisiana State University Press

Baton Rouge 70893

Jennifer Ring

Saving Objectivity for Feminism:
MacKinnon, Marx, and Other Possibilities

James Conniff

Burke on Political Economy: The Nature and Extent of State Authority

Daniel N. Hoffman

What Makes a Right Fundamental

Paul E. Sigmund

The Catholic Tradition and Modern Democracy

Glenn Tinder

Christianity and the Welfare State