The Linguistics Association of Great Britain (LAGB) is the leading professional association for academic linguists in Great Britain, and welcomes new members. Its scope includes all branches of linguistics – formal or functional, theoretical or descriptive, synchronic or diachronic, social or psychological (or neither), concerned with one language or many. Its members individually favour a wide range of different theories of language structure, and all theoretical persuasions are welcome. To learn more, please see http://www.lagb.org.uk.

LAGB’s main activities are:

• Representation of linguists and linguistics in matters such as research funding and quality assurance
• Bridging the gap between academic linguistics and language education through the activities of the LAGB Education Committee. This committee organizes specialist seminars and conferences, as well as papers reflecting a wide range of views and approaches.
• Maintenance of discussion forums for discussion of general issues.

Members of the LAGB are eligible for a special rate. For details, please see http://www.lagb.org.uk/new-subscriptions.

The subscription price of volume 55 (2019) is £143 (£112 in the USA, Canada and Mexico) for institutions print and electronic; institutions electronic only £44 (£35 in the USA, Canada and Mexico). EU subscribers (outside the UK) who are not registered for VAT should add VAT at their country’s rate. VAT registered subscribers should provide their VAT registration number.

Orders, which must be accompanied by payment, may be sent to a bookseller, subscription agent or direct to the publisher: Cambridge University Press, Journals Fulfillment Department, 1000 Massachusetts Avenue, Cambridge, MA 02139, USA. Organizations in the USA who are also registered with the C.C.C. may therefore copy material (beyond the limits permitted by sections 107 and 108 of the U.S Copyright law) subject to payment of the per-copy fee of $12.00. This consent does not extend to multiple copying for promotional or commercial purposes.

This journal issue has been printed on FSC-certified paper and cover board. FSC is an independent, non-governmental, not-for-profit organization established to promote the responsible management of the world’s forests. Please see www.fsc.org for information.

Notes for Contributors

Journal of Linguistics has as its goal to publish articles that make a clear contribution to current debate in all branches of theoretical linguistics. The journal also provides an excellent survey of recent linguistics publications, with book reviews in each volume and review articles on major works marking important theoretical advances. The journal includes a Looking Back, Moving Forward section for briefer contributions to current debate. The Editors welcome proposals for guest-edited special, thematic issues and for overview papers for the Looking Back, Moving Forward section.
