ST. FRANCIS OF AMERICA
How a Thirteenth-Century Friar Became America’s Most Popular Saint
Patricia Applebaum

“St. Francis didn’t much like books, but if he did he would bless this one, which follows the strange odyssey of this thirteenth-century Catholic saint into the homes and hearts of contemporary Americans. Applebaum deftly stalks this American saint from his rediscovery in the mid-nineteenth century to his more recent incarnations as pacifist, hippie, and environmentalist.”
—Stephen Prothero, author of God Is Not One: The Eight Rival Religions That Run the World

THE LONG SHADOW OF VATICAN II
Living Faith and Negotiating Authority since the Second Vatican Council
Edited by Lucas Van Rompay, Sam Migliarese, and David Morgan

“Will take its place as one of the most intelligent assessments of the Council’s effect on its fiftieth anniversary. It successfully locates the Council in the history of not only the 1960s but its turbulent and unpredictable aftermath.”
—John McGreevy, University of Notre Dame

THE LAST PURITANS
Mainline Protestants and the Power of the Past
Margaret Bendroth

“A splendid contribution to American religious history. Analyzing the doings of Congregationalists from early seventeenth-century New England through the present, Bendroth demonstrates how the denomination most symbolically integrated into American origins—the Mayflower, the City on a Hill, Thanksgiving and all that—became entrapped by those origins but then parlayed by its iconic status into a style of Protestantism that could function in an increasingly plural society.”
—David Hollinger, University of California, Berkeley

MIGRATING FAITH
Pentecostalism in the United States and Mexico in the Twentieth Century
Daniel Ramirez

“Ramirez’s groundbreaking work will invigorate Latino religious history with the study of culture, art, and music. Adding many rich, deep layers, this book will become a standard text in the field of Latino religious history.”
—Arlene Sánchez-Walsh, Azusa Pacific University

THE FIRST AMERICAN EVANGELICAL

A Short Life of Cotton Mather

Rick Kennedy

"Mather's life is one of the most fascinating in all of American history. Rick Kennedy has done a fine job in providing a sympathetic, engaging, and yet brief account of such a many-sided and influential personality."

— George M. Marsden

"Cotton Mather is widely seen as a moralistic hypocrite, a one-dimensional bad guy we moderns love to hate. But in this lively new biography, he takes on flesh and blood and, more importantly, a heart... This courageous little book offers readers a better feel for Mather's vibrant, quirky, learned, evangelical spirituality than anything before."

— Douglas A. Sweeney

“Risk and Fortune”
Shelby Cullom Davis Center for Historical Studies

During the academic years 2016/17 and 2017/18, the Shelby Cullom Davis Center for Historical Studies will focus on the topic of “Risk and Fortune.” Notions of risk have been important to human societies for centuries. Soothsaying, insurance, medical prognostication, financial investment, and gambling all contend with—or try to contain—possible losses. Conversely, good fortune has had its talismans and theorists throughout history. How have different cultures tried to tame chance, or comprehend its whims? To what degree have the practices of commerce relied upon, or alternatively relied, risk? Do technological systems generate hazards they are not capable of controlling? This two-year seminar will bring together scholars working on risk and fortune in historical societies around the world in all time periods, on topics including (but not restricted to) economics, science, religion, industry, statistics, and agriculture.

The Center will offer a limited number of research fellowships for one or two semesters, running from September to January and from February to June. Early career scholars must have their doctoral degrees in hand at the time of the application. Fellows are expected to live in Princeton in order to take an active part in the intellectual interchange with other members of the Seminar. Funds are limited, and candidates are, therefore, strongly urged to apply to other grant-giving institutions as well as the Center if they wish to come for a full year.

To apply please link to: http://jobs.princeton.edu, requisition #1500396. The deadline for receipt of applications and letters of recommendation for fellowships for 2016/2017 is December 1, 2015. Please note that we will not accept faxed applications. Applicants must apply online and submit a CV, cover letter, research proposal, abstract of proposal, and contact information for three references. For further information about the Davis Center, please go to http://www.princeton.edu/dav. Princeton University is an equal opportunity employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.
