NEWS & VIEWS

Recent Doctoral Degrees in Middle East Studies, 2003-2004

Prepared by Joe Walker

Ed. Note: Canadian and US Dissertation titles are available online by subscription only at Dissertation Abstracts Online (© 2005, UMI Co. All Rights Reserved) at http://wwwlib.umi.com/dissertations/. Foreign titles were collected as available and are incomplete. Please inform us about dissertations completed outside of Canada and the US.

2003

Hassan, Narin F. “Foreign Bodies: Medicine, Gender and Colonialism in Nineteenth-century British Culture.” The University of Rochester, 2003. AAT 3102277

Ibrahim, Dina A. “Framing of Arabs and Muslims After September 11th: A Close Reading of Network News.” The University of Texas at Austin, 2003. AAT 3116344

Niva, Steven Millard. “Rival Sovereignties: Western Hegemony and Normative Conflict in the Middle East State-System.” Columbia University, 2003. AAT 3104837

2004

Eddon, Raluca M. “Israel, ‘A Light Unto the Nations’? Hannah Arendt, Gershom Scholem and the Founding of the Jewish State.” Yale University, 2004. AAT 3125186

El-Ariss, Tarek. “Tracing the Nation in French and Arabic Travel Narratives from the Late Eighteenth to Mid-Nineteenth Century.” Cornell University, 2004. AAT 3140794

Ghazali, Siti Raudzah. “Posttraumatic Stress Disorder, Emotional Intelligence, and Gender Differences Among Refugee Children from the Middle East (Iraq, Lebanon, Palestine).” Union Institute and University, 2004. AAT 3127219

Mills, Amy. “Streets of Memory: The Kuzguncuk Mahalle in Cultural Practice and Imagination (Turkey).” University of Texas at Austin, 2004. AAT 3143432

Taylor, Julie Elaine. “Prophet Sharing: Strategic Interaction Between Islamic Clerics and Middle Eastern Regimes (Egypt, Iran).” University of California, Los Angeles, 2004. AAT 3110841
