Some Useful Sources

Angela Packwood

Department of Education, University of Keele
E-mail: a.packwood@educ.keele.ac.uk

1 Key text
This book looks at the way in which evidence guides policy and practice in cross-sectoral accounts of specific public policy areas including education, criminal justice, and healthcare.

2 Analysis of the relationship of evidence to different types of policy in the health services can be found in:

3 A discussion of the relationship of research to teaching can be found in:
The debate is continued on-line at: www.bera.ac.uk/debate/index.html

4 The application of a clinical, evidence-based model to education is discussed in:

5 Useful web sites
http://atschool.eduweb.co.uk/e-beuk/http://eppi.ioe.ac.uk http://www.evidencenetwork.org/home.asp http://www.nice.org.uk
http://www.regard.ac.uk
Online journal: http://www.esrc.ac.uk/esrccontent/connect/the_edge.asp