Terms and Conditions for authors to the Journal of Materials Research, 'the Journal' published by Materials Research Society and Cambridge University Press.

By completing, signing and returning the Copyright Transfer form (Form JCT.12.2) you have agreed to abide by the following Terms and Conditions. Please retain this document for future reference.

- A. The Journal's policy is to acquire copyright in all articles. There are two reasons for this: (a) ownership of copyright by one central organization tends to ensure maximum international protection against unauthorized use; (b) it also ensures that requests by third parties to reprint or reproduce an article, or part of it, are handled efficiently and in accordance with a general policy that is sensitive both to any relevant changes in international copyright legislation and to the general desirability of encouraging the dissemination of knowledge.
- B. Materials Research Society and Cambridge University Press co-operates in various licensing schemes that allow material to be photocopied within agreed restraints (e.g. the CCC in the USA and the CLA in the UK). Any proceeds received from such licences, together with any proceeds from sales of subsidiary rights in the Journal, directly support its continuing publication.
- C. It is understood that in some cases copyright will be held by the author's employer. If so, Materials Research Society and Cambridge University Press requires exclusive permission to deal with requests from third parties.
- D. Permission to include material not in your copyright. If your article, including any supplementary materials, includes textual or illustrative material not in your copyright and not covered by fair use / fair dealing, permission must be obtained from the relevant copyright owner (usually the publisher or via the publisher) for the non-exclusive right to reproduce the material worldwide in all forms and media, including electronic publication. Please note that illustrative material (such as photographs/drawings) are not included in fair use/fair dealing provisions, even if acknowledged, and permission should be sought for their use in your article. The relevant permission correspondence should be attached to your copyright transfer form.
- E. Cambridge University Press acts in accordance with the UK Bribery Act 2010 and the Data Protection Act 1998. Please refer to the Press's relevant policies, (<http://www.cambridge.org/policy/privacy/>), (http://www.cambridge.org/policy/abc_policy/) which may be revised from time to time.
- F. Materials Research Society and Cambridge University Press shall provide the first named author with offprints or/ and a final PDF file of the article.

Re-use of your article.

Notwithstanding the assignment of copyright in your article, you retain the following non-transferable rights, (subject to appropriate permission having been cleared for any third-party material):

Definitions¹:

Author's Original (AO), Any version of the article that is considered by you to be of sufficient quality to be submitted for formal peer review by a second party. You accept full responsibility for the article. Content and layout as set out by you.

Submitted Manuscript Under Review (SMUR), Any version of the article that is under formal review managed by Cambridge University Press (or the Materials Research Society (MRS)). Cambridge University Press (or MRS) recognizes its responsibility to provide objective expert review and feedback to you, and, ultimately, to pass judgment on the fitness of the article for publication with an "accept" or "reject" decision. Content and layout follow Materials Research Society's submission requirements.

Accepted Manuscript (AM), The version of the article that has been accepted for publication in the Journal. Materials Research Society and Cambridge University Press take permanent responsibility for the article. Content and layout follow the Journal's submission requirements.

Version of Record (VoR), A fixed version of the article that has been made available by Cambridge University Press or MRS by formally and exclusively declaring the article "published". This includes any "early release" article that is formally identified as being published even before the compilation of a volume issue and assignment of associated metadata, as long as it is citable via some permanent identifier(s). This does not include any "early release" article that has not yet been "fixed" by processes that are still to be applied, such as copy-editing, proof corrections, layout, and typesetting. The VoR includes any corrected or enhanced VoR.

Personal or departmental web page

- 1.1. You may post either the AO or SMUR version of your article on your personal or departmental web page.
- 1.2. You may post the AM version of your article on your personal or departmental web page, provided the posting is accompanied by a prominent statement that the article has been accepted for publication and will appear in a revised form, subsequent to peer review and/or editorial input by MRS, in the Journal of Materials Research published by Materials Research Society and Cambridge University Press, together with a copyright notice in the name of the copyright holder (MRS). On publication the full bibliographical details of the article (volume: issue number (date), page numbers) must be inserted after the journal title, together with a link to the Cambridge website address for the Journal.
- 1.3.
