

There is/are

A. Please choose the correct form of the verb in the following sentences.

1. There (has/have) been changes in the number of international students.
2. There (is/are) some evidence that high-school grades predict university grades.
3. There (may/have) be some health issues with this product.
4. Recently, there has (been/being) a debate about smoking in movies.
5. There (is/are) too many people in the world who earn less than a dollar a day.

B. Please choose the best form of the verb and complete the sentences with your own ideas.

1. There (is/are) several reasons for _____.
2. In the future there may (be/are) _____.
3. There (is/are) two ways _____.
4. If we _____, there (will/would) be _____.

C. Please rewrite these sentences without using there + be.

1. There are some similarities between these two cars.

---

2. There are people who think that robots will soon be able to many human jobs.

---

3. There are many problems with this idea.

---

4. There have been many books which have been written about ancient Greece.

---